A Visit from St. Nicholas

The moon, on the breast of the new-fallen snow, Gave a lustre of mid-day
to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
He whistled and shouted,
and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer!
Prancer! now, Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Don-der and Blitzen!"
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!
Now, dash away, dash away,
dash away all!

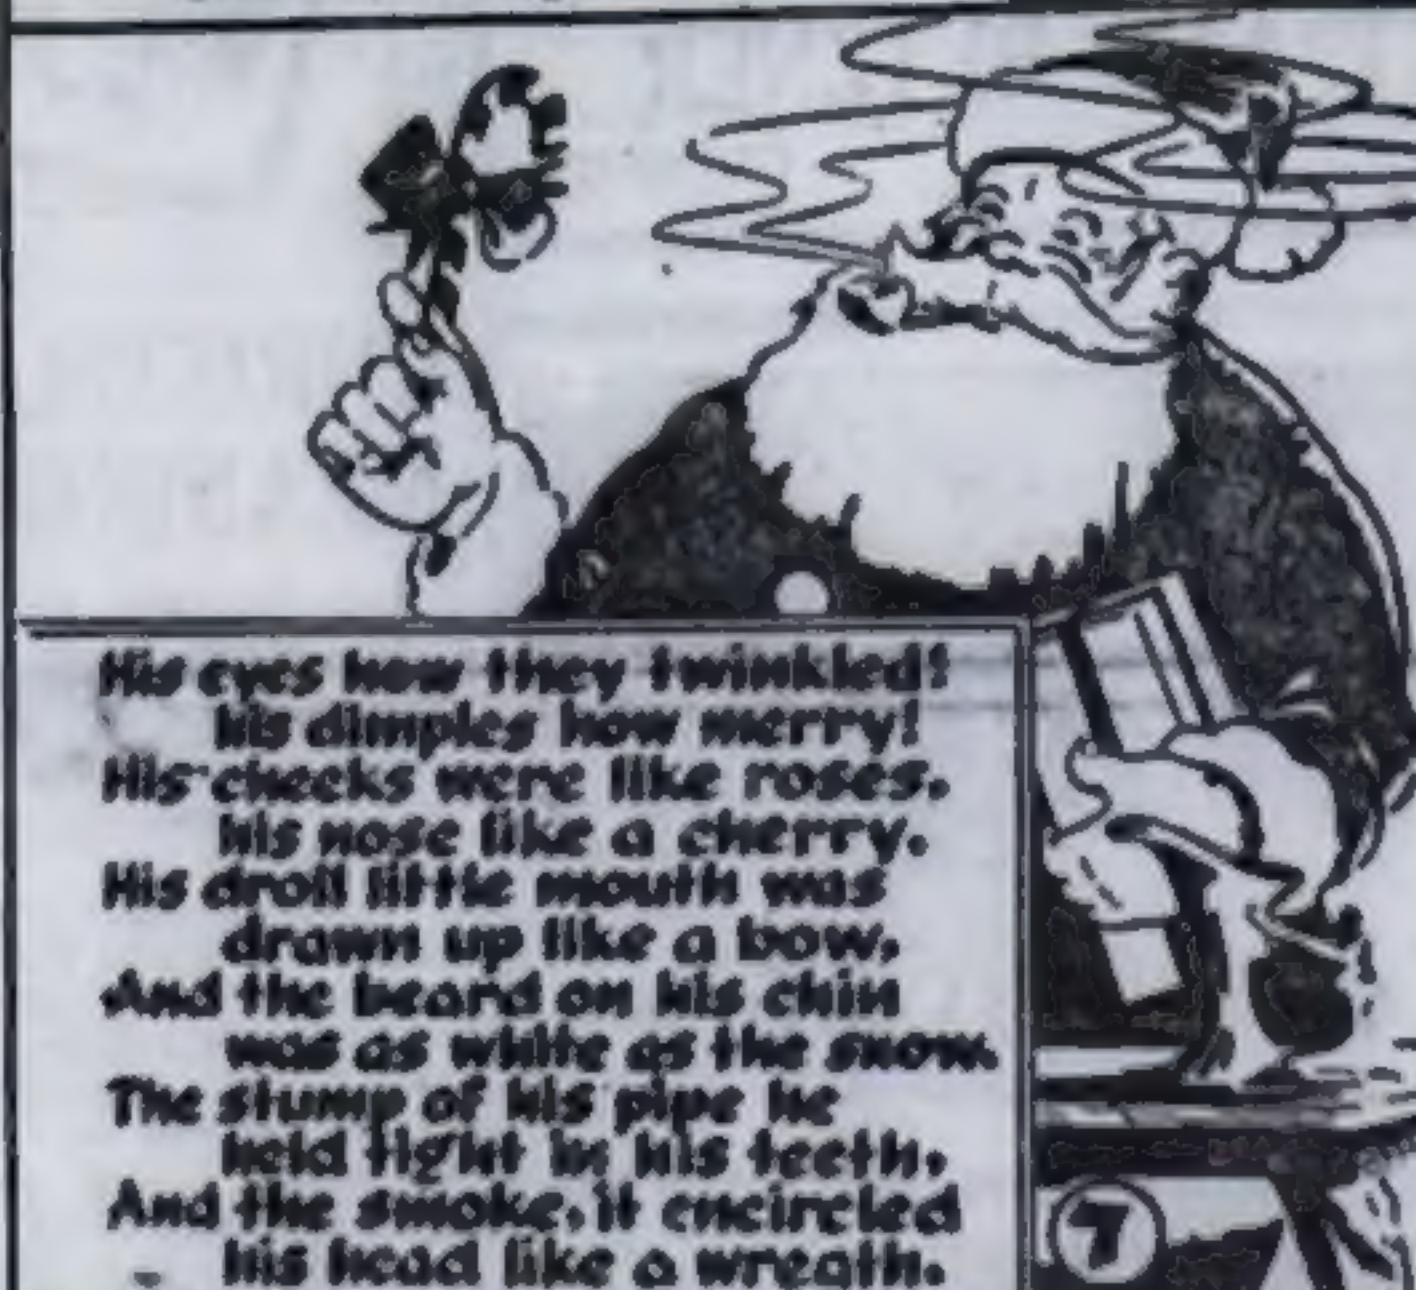

As dry leaves that before
the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So, up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys and St. Nicholas too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof,
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.

'Twas the night before Christmas,
when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring,
not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by
the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads.

As I drew in my head and was turning around, Down the chimney St. Nickolas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur
from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot,
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he look'd like a peddler
just opening his pack.

His eyes how they twinkled!
His cheeks how merry!
His nose like a cherry.
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin
was as white as the snow.
The stump of his pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke, it encircled his head like a wreath.

He had a broad face and a little round belly
That shook when he laugh'd like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump—
a right jolly old elf—
And I laugh'd when I saw him in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings;
then turned with a jerk

And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle!
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all and to all a good-night!"

MASONIC BRETHREN ENTERTAIN LADIES

Some 230 members and guests of Union Lodge, No. 7, A.F. & A.M., Grimsby, gathered in the spacious Oak Room at the Village Inn on Friday evening, Dec. 2nd, to observe "Ladies' Night." Guests were received by the W.M. of Union Lodge, W. Bro. H. V. Betzner, and Mrs. Betzner, Bro. Alfred Clark, S.W., and Mrs. Clark, Bro. Laurence Hysert, J.W., and Mrs. Hysert. The colour scheme of blue and white was beautifully shown against the Oak Room background, and the banquet proved to be the success that we have come to expect from the gracious hostess of the Village Inn, the one and only Peggy O'Neil.

The Toastmaster of the evening, W.M. H. V. Betzner, welcomed the guests and gave a brief resume of Union Lodge, 149 years old, and going stronger than ever, and gave a roll call of living Past Masters of the Lodge, making special mention of two who were unable to be present, R. W. Bro. C. T. Farrell, who has been Master 44 years ago, and W. Bro. A. F. Hawtin, 43 years ago.

Following the time honoured Toast to the King, Bro. Betzner called on R. W. Bro. C. W. Lewis to propose the Toast to the Ladies. This was very graciously responded to by Mrs. H. V. Betzner. At this time, Bro. Alfred Clark presented Mrs. Betzner with a lovely bouquet of mums.

The Toast to the Visitors was proposed by V. W. Bro. C. P. Cowland and was very capably responded to by W. Bro. Franklin Laundry, W.M., of Ivy Lodge, Beamsville.

The thanks and appreciation of the ladies were expressed to the members of Union Lodge by Mrs. C. P. Cowland, and the response was made by Bro. Laurence Hysert.

Mrs. A. Jarvis, wife of Bro. Albert Jarvis, P.M. of Union Lodge, and Joyce Maycock were the lucky holders of the winning tickets for the two door prizes.

Bro. Harold Jarvis, assisted by Bro. Kenneth Baxter at the piano led in community singing while tables were being cleared, which made a perfect start on the evening's entertainment. The orchestra, under the leadership of Morgan Thomas, proved to be all that could be wished for and the Lido Quartette received an ovation for their numbers, sung in their own inimitable way. Their leader, Bro. Wilfred Earle, is J. W. of Barton Lodge. Mr. Herman Terry, baritone soloist, was eagerly received by all present and we enjoyed so much this selection of songs, especially his "Bluebird of Happiness" as happiness was truly the keynote of the evening.

Following this part of the evening's entertainment the floor was cleared, and those present danced to the music of Morgan Thomas' orchestra until the strains of "God Save The King" brought to a reluctant close a long anticipated and thoroughly enjoyed "Union Lodge No. 7 Ladies' Night," and all agreed that the Committee on arrangements with the Chairman, Bro. John Reekie, should be completely satisfied with the results of their efforts.

Visitors were present from Buffalo, N.Y., Hamilton, Beamsville, Smithville, Abingdon, Port Colborne, and other Lodges.

LIGHTHOUSES TO GO

Sir Robert Watt, the "father of radar," recently forecast the disappearance of lighthouses from the coasts of Britain in favor of radar stations. Ships approaching port would then pick up their exact bearing on special radio sets, and in this way be piloted safely into harbour. Sir Robert is looking forward to the day when radar will remove all dangers of collision at sea. Even in the thickest fog ships will be able to travel at full speed in complete safety.

CHRISTMAS HELD RELIGIOUS MEANING FOR PIONEERS

Christmas on the frontier, as new bands of pioneers pushed ever westward to carve an empire out of virgin plains and wildernesses, was in marked contrast to the present holiday.

There was more meaning then in the words of The Book concerning shepherds in a certain country watching their flocks by night. The solitude, the closeness of the stars, the virginity of the new world and its humble people made one feel that time had stood still. Christmas in those days somehow seemed much closer to that first Christmas.

Those bleak plains could be the ones the Wise Men crossed, this the Night and you sleeping village, Bethlehem. The faith of the trail breakers was that of the Wise Men.

On Christmas Eve the pioneer folks would gather in a crude little church or schoolhouse where children recited their pieces and sang songs about the birth of the Christ Child. Santa would hand out mosquito-bar sacks of candy, a golden

Children who received a slate pencil or a shell-box, a little affair covered with shells and containing a small mirror, were the special favorites of Santa.

For goodies, no Christmas was complete without its pans of popcorn and ropes of molasses taffy. In rare cases there might be a bag of candy.

In the isolated cabins it wasn't so easy to gather with one's neighbors to celebrate. There were wolves in the timber and being caught in a sudden storm on the pioneer trails spelled death.

Christmas in some places meant a bobbed ride or perhaps a square dance, often followed by a turkey dinner costing 25 cents.

Gifts, if any, generally were in the form of utilitarian mittens, mufflers or home-made boots. For the women there might be a piece of intricate handiwork to which some enterprising friend had devoted her spare time for months.

Throughout the holiday season a candle burned in the attic window, guiding late-faring travellers to orange or an apple to each one and childhood rapture would make that meager offering truly a gift of gold and frankincense.

Home-made sleds and sleighs skinned over the snowy countryside with sleigh bells jingling accompanied to the caroling of "Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells."

Except in the forest regions, few children enjoyed the sight of a Christmas tree. But always they hung up their stockings, an old custom of their forefathers.

It was a lucky boy who awoke Christmas morning to find a new jack-knife in his stocking; a lucky girl who received a string of beads or a calico doll from Santa Claus. But that doll, made from spare strips of bright cloth, probably was more treasured than any modern doll that can say "Mama," go to sleep and perhaps require a diaper.

shelter—the Star of Bethlehem on the frontier.

But withal, these hardy folks had as much fun as their great-grandsons and daughters who again this year will celebrate by exchanging elaborate gifts, dancing to name bands, feasting with no worries that tomorrow there may be nothing in the electric refrigerator.

Carving Christmas Turkey Simple, If You Know How

Black starts with a debonair and confident air.

First, with much pointing to his left, Black starts carving on far side, removing second joint with dramatic and pleasing on a side plate.

Christmas or New Year's dinner table is the bird, whether it be turkey, goose or chicken. However, only too often the master of the house, starting with a flourish and a false air of confidence, winds up giving a performance that is strictly a "turkey."

Next, he carefully, expertly removes the wing.

Finally, here comes the white meat as Black slices downward to remove succulent portions from the breast, holding the bird with fork.

speaking eloquently, when he tries to carve it. A master of the art, Rene Black, manager of restaurants for New York's Waldorf-Astoria, demonstrates that the procedure really is simple if you know how.

CHRISTMAS HELD TWICE YEARLY

If children instead of their parents were allowed to choose the family homestead, the tiny fishing village of Rodanthe, N. C., would become a metropolis overnight. Here's a place they celebrate two Christmases every year.

Santa Claus, his reindeer scampering over the sands of North Carolina's outer banks, makes his first stop in Rodanthe during his annual world tour on the night of December 24. Hardly have the children recovered from their oversupply of candy and wild duck when Santa returns in time for "Old Christmas," which for hundreds of years Rodantheans have celebrated on January 6. This time, however, Santa is accompanied by a menacing ogre, known as "Old Buck," who takes care of the bad children while Santa administers to the good.

REDUCE CHRISTMAS HAZARDS WITH CARE

To avoid tragic Christmas accidents in the home, the Fire Protection Institute issues these precautionary tips:
—Use a flame-proof compound to spray wreaths and other pine decorations.
—Use materials marked flame-proof for tree trimmings and home decorations if they are obtainable.
—Inspect Christmas tree lights, and repair frayed wires or loose sockets.
—Never leave Christmas lights burning unless someone is around.
—Never unwrap gifts near an open fire or flickering flame. Dispose of paper and other inflammable wrappings immediately.

ORNAMENT MAKING A COLLEGE INDUSTRY

Those colored glass ornaments that we hang on our Christmas trees used to come from Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland. A small number were made in Japan. When the war cut off these supplies, American glass manufacturers, who had never bothered with these products before, turned part of their facilities over to making the pretty gewgaws. Mechanical methods were soon developed that could blow as many ornaments in an hour as a European glassblower could make in a month. Thus modern efficiency may doom this picturesque little industry, carried on in the mountainous towns of eastern Europe.

Ornament making is a typical "cottage industry" in the little villages that cling to the steep mountainsides. Families specialize in certain shapes and designs, patterns that may date back for hundreds of years unchanged. The father, using a bunsen burner, carefully blows the thin glass tubing to the desired shape, with the aid of an iron mold. His son, acting as mold boy, removes the hot ornament to a cooling table. Next the mother stirs the inside, and finally the daughter applies paint and perhaps decorative designs.

ABBREVIATION, XMAS OF GREEK ORIGIN

There has been much unfavorable comment on the abbreviated form for Christmas that is commonly used. Many think it inappropriate and undignified to use the crisscrossed form, Xmas. The explanation of its origin is that the first letter of the Greek name for Christ is X and the coincidence of its crisscross shape led to an early adoption of this letter as the figure and symbol of Christ. X is frequently found on walls of the catacombs. Whether early Christians wished to make representation of the Trinity they would place either a cross or X beside the names of the Father and the Holy Ghost. From this came the shortened form, in stead of Christmas.

In a world changing almost daily, this one festive season lasts, and will last, to bring us a feeling of sameness which each year becomes a pleasant memory or a joyous anticipation. Christmas will always be with us, bringing us something that no other season brings.

WITH BROCK AT QUEENSTON HEIGHTS

afterwards, but, it was another half hour before he got the full garrison on the march to Brock.
In the early evening, however, the enemy had with some display on the lake, threatened to land batteries in an effort to stop the departure of troops to Queenston. But, gun-fire, (cannon-fire) from Fort George had blasted them from the water. It may have had some bearing on any delay.With the first streak of dawn, the enemy were seen in large numbers on the Heights, near Queen-ston. Gen. Sheaffe, not having arrived, General Brock had gone back a mile to discuss matters with some batteries, leaving Col. MacDonnell in charge of the advanced position. At once MacDonnell ordered an attack which he gallantly led in person. Up they stumbled, up the Eastern slope to the Heights, but, a hot return fire from the Americans, both on top and at various points of vantage, withered their ranks. Col. MacDonnell cheered on his men with, "Push on, brave York Volunteers," and with these words, fell. Some histories state that Gen. Brock had said these words, but the records of those who took part, state differently. MacDonnell, however, in his full dress uniform of the times, made an easy target for the enemy and was shot down early in the futile attack. Without their leader, the attack waned and was slowly driven back.
Some of the troops retired down the road toward Fort George, but, they hadn't gone far before they met Gen. Brock returning to his H.Q. at Queenston.Though Brock turned them back again to the attack, when he arrived at the slope, himself in command, he put them under strategic cover, telling them, an attack now, up the slopes was suicidal and that he was waiting for reinforcements.The troops had complete confidence in Gen.
Brock and very soon the reinforcements could be distinctly heard, sloping up the road to a single drum beat. Deciding to take over the full attack himself, he mounted his horse, waiting, Lieut. Joseph Birnie, another militiaman, having been in the dawn attack under MacDonnell, was called over to the general. Wrapped in his cloak, he questioned Birnie as to position and strength of the enemy. The Americans now, were mostly under cover and holding their position. "They're mostly not far from the river, sir, and occupy a broken line along the brow of Queen-ston Heights," said Birnie. "Judging from their fire and what I saw of them, I'd estimate their number at some 3,000 men."The enemy, seeing the reinforcements coming in, commenced sending down a spitting fire, doing little damage. Perhaps they wanted to entice or hurry the British-Canadians to make another charge up the hill, according to George Hughson's ideas. However, to quote, "Lieut. Birnie heard a thud behind him, just after his talk with the general, and turned to see General Brock falling from his horse.
Springing back to catch him as he fell, he was in time to lay him gently on the ground. A stray musket ball had found its mark. Though a surgeon was summoned, quickly, General Brock was finished.
But, at that moment, Gen. Sheaffe arrived from Fort George with men so badly needed. Quickly, dismounting he rushed to Gen. Brock's side. Brock waved his arm to him, saying, "Carry out my orders.
No change!" and with these words, fell back dead."Bringing with him 300 regulars of the 41st and 49th regiments, two companies of the Lincoln militia and 200 Chippewa volunteers and some 300 Indians, General Sheaffe added to them most of the Queenston troops. Only two small companies of militia were left behind to define their position and draw the enemy's attention. They were also instructed to help guard the batteries, if necessary. Marching his column of some 1,200 men to the west on a heavily wooded road towards St. David's, he made a circle around and up the side of the mountain ridge along the route as mapped out by Brock. Coming through the woods, they arrived at the top a mile or so from the enemy, just as Brock had planned in his dispatch.While this was taking place, the U.S. forces, buckled by their initial success in night landing and mounting the Heights unopposed, began again to ply their batteries across in broad daylight to land their reinforcements. The hidden batteries of 18-pounders again opened a withering fire and smashed batteries to pieces. The rest of the men in the batteries became scared and turned back to Lewiston. According to pioneer reports, "They could not be persuaded to try it again." Artillery in that day could not place their shots with any accuracy to a distance as far as the width of the river and so, no battery assistance from Lewiston was able to help the bat-teas.
Forming into battle lines, a few Indians interspersed between companies of infantry, the encircling troops under Gen. Sheaffe followed out General Brock's orders to the minute."Charge the enemy!" was the order given. Canadian militiamen were so infuriated at the daring of the Americans that they fought like demons. The British lines, sweeping all in their path before them with a terrific force, the American blue-coats fell like nine-pins. The Americans, taken completely by surprise, expecting no attack from the rear, hesi-tated, then ran. Canadian militiamen were cheering as they charged, but when the Mohawk Indians began their war-whoops, the Canadians took up the Indian cries and swelled the volume to a deafening roar. Taking the lead from the Canadians, every soldier yelled the war-whoops in glee at the consternation produced on the enemy. The Americans felt that thousands of Indians were after their scalps.Turning and running pell-mell, sliding, even leaping down the perilous slopes of Queenston Heights, the Americans soon disappeared from the top, and were defeated by less than half their number. Some of the enemy were caught in the branches of the trees which grew below the Heights and hung there; in some cases bodies hung for days before they could be reached and removed for burial.Quoting from the words of the author's great-grandfather, Capt. Pierce Moore of the 2nd West Lincoln militia regiment: "I was posted two miles west of the Americans, but on the Heights with my 200 men to guard a path coming up from the river, but we had not seen any of the enemy. We had been posted there by orders of Gen. Brock, showing the general's outstanding precautions, but where we were, made us miss the early fun of the first conflict. They sent me orders to join Gen. Sheaffe by an Indian who led us through the trees, just in time for the grand charge over the top. My! you should've seen those Yankees run. Over the edge and into the river as if all Hell were loose."George Hughson, in his reports, says, "You should've seen the Yankees swarming the river like cattle, under the withering fire from us red-coats.
A grand sight!" And while the river was still black with struggling men, striving to regain the shores of New York State, 1,100 prisoners were taken, but many of the enemy were destroyed.Even General Van Rensselaer of the American forces was disabled in the attack. Finally Major Winfield Scott, afterwards to gain some fame, took over temporary command of the retreat, but upon arrival at Lewiston, the pioneers say, his command was wrested from him and given to Gen. Smythe."That evening," to quote Lieut. Birnie's account to J. T. Land, many years after, "I was walking along the top of the bank with brother officers, viewing the battlefield. We heard groans below us and saw a Yankee wounded officer hanging on to some bush he had seized. With difficulty, we dragged him up where he began piteously to beg us not to kill him, which was both odd and ridiculous.
'We're British and we don't kill our prisoners,' we told him. You'd think we were savages, but the poor wretch was scared stiff. He made us promise to protect him from the red-skins whom, he claimed would scalp him on sight. Quieting his fears, we turned him over to the surgeon, for which he seemed very thankful."When the minute guns boomed out for the funeral of Gen. Brock and Col. MacDonnell, the Americans, across the river, to their credit, answered gun for gun in respect for a great general.General Sheaffe obtained a baronetcy as his reward for the successful capture of Queenston Heights, though he only carried out the orders of his superior, the beloved General Brock. The memory of General Brock is honoured by the imposing monument erected on the brink of Queenston Heights. To-day the site is a Government public park with some attractions. Cars park on a wide circle of concrete, laid out for them. A pond for young children to paddle in, lies back of the pavilion and an attractive restaurant overlooks the brow.
Some years ago, tea was served in the circle on top of Brock's monument, but now, only the winding staircase invites you to climb to the top for a small fee. The view from the park of the river and the surrounding landscape is very imposing and the remark is often heard, "What a picture to paint!"

Visits should be short, like a winter's day.

Men have more courage than women but nevertheless women show more backbone.

EASE-UP IN A FREEZE-UP

New winter accide facts, based on research by National Safety Council, reveal alarming increase skidding and poor visibility crashes during snowy, icy weather. Authorities ge equalized brakes, using tire chains, windshield wipers, defrosters, goggles and lower speeds to minimize the added seasonal hazards of inadequate top-and-go traction on snow or ice and reduced visibility.

WONDERING WHAT SANTA CLAUS WILL BRING THIS YEAR?

If you have young children in your home, you'll know how they're all getting excited about Santa's visit and wondering what they will get from him. Just remember that toys are something all youngsters enjoy. Little girls are conservative and traditional in their toy tastes. Leaving such things as space ships and guns to boys, they are content with dolls, the bigger the better. This little girl at left has her heart's desire in a doll that is as large as herself.

and it can even wear her own clothes. Outdoor games are always fun and the lot at right is having the time of her life, all crowded up after ramping with her skills and poles.

UKRAINIANS HOLD TO MANY OLD CUSTOMS

Ukrainian churches, both Greek Orthodox and Uniate, cling to the ancient Julian calendar, so their Christmas Day comes 13 days later than ours, or on January 6. Christmas Eve is celebrated with much traditional ceremony and festivity.

The Holy Supper or Swiata Wecera is very elaborate, consisting of 12 courses, in memory of the 12 apostles. Fish, baked, broiled and filled, takes the place of meat. Boroch, or beet soup, is generally served, and stuffed cabbage, filled with millet or rice. Varvnik, something like the Italian ravioli, also is a usual course. Dessert consists of special pudding called kutya, made of wheat, poppy seeds and honey.

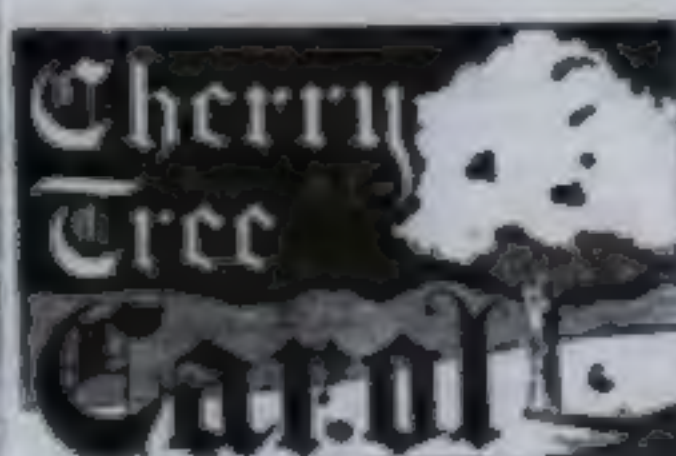

During the Christmas Eve supper, some member of every Ukrainian family throws a handful of kutya or pudding at the ceiling. If it sticks, the coming year will be a prosperous and happy one. After supper a plate of braided bread, called betach, is left on the table between two lighted candles. Legend says that the spirits of the family's dead will return at midnight to eat this bread.

The Ukrainian Christmas festival last three days. In the villages singers known as Kolyadniky go from house to house singing the Kolyadky folk songs relating the birth of Christ and the events of his life. They usually carry a manger with them, and in some cases they perform miracle plays. They are rewarded by gifts of food or money.

QUAINT SWISS CUSTOM OF MAKING LOVE

Forecasting is ritualized in Switzerland. Grandma goes to the cellar, selects the most perfect onion, halves it, and peels 12 layers, one for each month. The next day these layers show what the weather will be during the coming year.

The daughter of the house goes about town at midnight, to drink from nine different fountains. Then she goes to church. She expects to meet her unknown lover on the church steps.

The old Cherry Tree carol, or the legend upon which it is based, is undoubtedly the reason for the custom of placing a branch of cherry tree in water to bud for Christmas time.

According to this legend, Mary and Joseph on their way to Bethlehem passed a tree loaded with cherries. Mary was hungry for some of the fruit and asked Joseph to pluck some cherries for her. The tree graciously bowed down so that Mary could pick the fruit herself.

It has been customary among the Czechs and Slovaks to take the branch of a cherry tree and place it in water in the late fall so that the buds reach the blossoming stage at Christmas time.

The belief was current that if the sprig blossomed by Christmas Eve, the girl who tended it would marry during the New Year.

TREATING TREES TO PRESERVE NEEDLES

Dropping needles or leaves of Christmas trees, which strip the trees of color and litter the floor, long have been a Yuletide bane. Therefore, the discovery of the New York State College of Forestry that waterglass spray will prevent the spruce leaves from falling comes as welcome news to family and housewife alike.

Besides preserving the foliage, the waterglass spray adds to the decorative effect of the spruce by leaving a slight silver sheen to the green of the needle-like leaves. The waterglass also has been found to be a good fire retardant.

The college found that the shedding of spruce leaves also can be retarded by placing the base of the tree in a bucket of moist earth, peat moss or water. Users have reported the success of this treatment.

Legend has it that when Christ was born and Satan died, the bells in the churches were rung. At exactly midnight the tolling changed to a joyful peal, announcing the birth of the Christ.

In the dark chambers high above the turmoil and strife of human life, dwell the Apostles of Peace, whose salutations were never so welcome as at the time of the great winter feasts of Christmas, so William Audin tells in his traditions.

In order to acquire a trim figure many a woman must make up her mind to do a lot of trimming.

"MISS CHRISTMAS SEAL FOR 1948"

Canadians are introduced to little "Miss Christmas Seal for 1948," two-year-old Pamela Lamphere of Chicago, who poses for this picture as her contribution to the annual Christmas seal sale sponsored by the Tuberculosis Institute. The Chicago lot wears a little dress and hat made of Christmas seals. Most of her recent pictures have been made in her little nightgown as she lay in a bed in hospital where she underwent a series of rare abdominal operations because she was born with a bladder outside her body.

The National Sanatorium association has done great work in Canada and it is to finance a widespread program to help ease T.B. that you are asked to buy T.B. Christmas seals this season. The death rate of this disease has been reduced by 80 per cent. since Grandmother's day when T.B. was considered almost incurable. Doctors claim if the disease is detected early enough and treated at once, 8 out of 10 cases can be cured. So—won't you lend a helping hand

Near Bethlehem did shepherds keep Their flocks of lambs and feeding sheep; Two whom God's angels did appear, Which put the shepherds in great fear, "Prepare and go," the angels said, "To Bethlehem, be not afraid; For there you'll find this happy morn, A princely babe, sweet Jesus born."

CHRISTMAS VISIT TO THE SEVEN FOUNTAINS

In 1540 when a plague was raging in Switzerland, 12 pious men of Rheinfelden formed a brotherhood to pray for St. Sebastian's aid, and to nurse the sick and bury the dead. Pestilence in medieval times was ascribed to evil spirits in water, so the Brotherhood of St. Sebastian visited each of the town's seven fountains, praying and singing hymns at each stop. They still continue this custom, but only on Christmas Eve. For this ritual the 12 Brothers are dressed in black, with black silk top hats. At every fountain they gather around the lantern-bearer and sing a medieval song. The march begins at the Froeschweide fountain, where the plague is supposed to have started three centuries ago. When they have passed the seventh, they enter the church for midnight mass and ceremoniously place their lantern on the altar of St. Sebastian.

DANGER FROM TREE FIRE EVER PRESENT

Although the Christmas tree is one of the most picturesque Yuletide ornaments, it is also one of the most dangerous, with the threat of fire an ever present possibility.

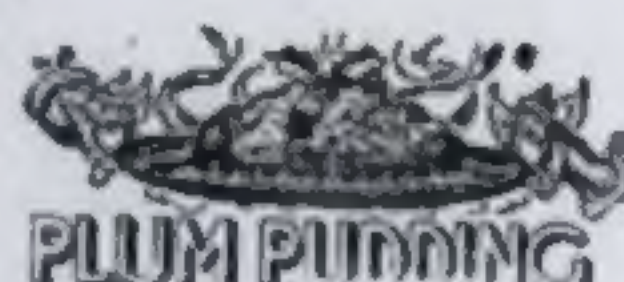

Replacement of the candle by the electric light has removed some of the hazards formerly experienced, but danger still lurks from faulty connections or careless handling of bulbs and strings.

To minimize the fire hazard, the department of agriculture offers two pertinent suggestions: First, keep the tree well watered and, second, fireproof it with ammonium sulphate or calcium chloride.

To provide the tree with sufficient water, cut the butt on a slant at least an inch above the original cut. Keep the water level above the slashed surface. In purchasing a tree, always look for one that has been felled recently so that the needles have not dried.

Fresh trees also are essential for flame-proofing. In using ammonium sulphate, a chemical content one-fourth the weight of the tree should be used. After dissolving one and a half pints of the ammonium in a pound of water, dash the stem of the tree and place it in the solution. Then, let the tree stand four to six days in the solution for complete absorption. Trees fireproofed in this manner will not be ignited by an electric spark.

In the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England, the prayer for the last Sunday before Advent began with the words "Stir up." The people of Peterborough took this to be a reminder that they should start their plum pudding at that time, and everybody in the family took a hand in the stirring until it was ready on Christmas.

This indispensable old-time English Christmas dish was formerly, or frumenty, which according to oldtime recipes was "wheat boiled until the grains burst, then strained and boiled again with broth or milk and yolks of eggs." Frumenty was the forerunner to plum pudding.

NEEDED NO WRAPPING

Not long ago someone stationed in Ceylon sent a coconut home to England. But he did not pack the gift in a box and label it "With Care." Oh no! He shaved the nut, addressed and stamped it, and then handed it in at a post office. In due course that coconut reached its destination, 2,000 miles away.

LEGENDS OF HOLLY

Many beliefs are connected with the Christmas holly:
Legends relate that the crown of thorns was plaited from the holly, the white berries turning red like drops of blood after the crucifixion.
"It is said that whoever brings the holly into the house first, either husband or wife, is the one who will rule in the ensuing year."
For many years the superstition persisted that holly was hateful to witches. It was placed on doors and windows to keep out evil spirits.

PASSING OF OLD HANK

(Ezra M. Cox, in Reader's Digest)
I am an undertaker. I have seen all kinds of funerals: buried the mighty and the lowly, the rich and the poor. But no funeral service ever moved me quite like the one conducted by a plain country preacher at the funeral of "Old Hank,"
the most despised man in our territory.

One day the mayor of a nearby
Frontier town called to tell me that Old Hank was dead. Would I hold a service for him in the town hall?
It would be a big funeral, he said,
for there were many who would be glad to see him buried.
Hank had lived for years in a lonely cabin on the mountainside, his only companions five or six vicious dogs. He had posted his land and allowed no one to set foot on it. Every week he came down to the little town to buy food and get drunk. He was prone and quarrelsome. Attempts to reason or remonstrate with him ended in abuse or a fight. One by one the townfolk turned against Old Hank and he became known as the man everybody hated.

Hank belonged to no church, but for conversion's sake I asked a minister to conduct the service.
"You'll be in a tough spot," I told him. "Not much good to be said of Old Hank. Just read some Scripture and we'll bury him."
The minister, a kindly soul, replied that he had never known an unregenerate who did not have some redeeming trait.

Next morning we drove down and had lunch at the one restaurant in town. We talked with the proprietress about Old Hank. "Did you know anything good about him?" the minister asked.

The woman looked startled at the direct question. Then her face softened. "I'm glad you asked me that," she said. "Now that he's gone, I can tell you his behavior. From under the counter she ate a box. "For years Old Hank here on his weekly visit. I Each time he left me
I was to keep it and at time buy gifts for any who would be likely not in the any. Look, there's over $50 by box. He always made $50 by Christmas."

The town hall, that afternoon was filled with the children in minister asked that the be dis-the school across the street. And missed to attend the funeral in when the youngsters walked and taken their places, one of over to the casket to be-the strangest funeral I have ever heard. It went thing like this:

"Hank, we have come to bury
you. There are a lot of people present, but few of them are sorry that you are gone. Your coffin is bare. No one thought enough of you to pick the lowliest flower that grows on the mountainside and place it on your casket. But, Hank, I've never buried anyone without some floral tribute, and I am not going to bury you without one. You do have some friends here—though they never knew you."

He turned to the children. He asked if any of them had ever received a present at Christmastime marked "from an unknown friend."
They would remember because the present had an envelope attached to it filled with pennies. Some of the children raised their hands. He asked them to come forward.

There was a stir in the audience as 21 children came up and stood beside the minister. He told them that Old Hank had been their unknown friend. Then he asked them to join hands in a circle around the casket.

The minister turned again to the deceased. "Hank," he said softly,
"you do have some friends here,
but they did not know you in time to bring you flowers. Here, then, is a wreath of the loveliest flowers that grow in the garden of God—
the very children you have made happy. With this tribute, Hank, we commend your soul to the God who gave it. Amen."

It is the undertaker's duty to take charge of the service as soon as the minister pronounces the last Amen, but I stood there that day weeping with the rest as we looked into the upturned faces of Old Hank's floral tribute—a wreath of children.

The Yuletide Season is here again. The grim aftermath of war has left many scars which can never be effaced. Our firm belief that Divine Providence would bring us VIC-TORY, has been justified. During the darkest hours, your courage was an object lesson to mankind.

You will continue to back up what is right, regardless of any sacrifice. To have given you my best has been a privilege which cannot be expressed in words.

As another year draws to a close, may a full measure of God's richest blessings flow

GRIMSBY IN RETROSPECT - 1948

(By GORD MCGREGOR)

Here is Grimsby in condensed form for the past 12 months as culled from the files of The Independent. The date line on each item denotes the issue that the item was culled from. Only highlights of the news were used.

January 1st, 1948—The old man of 1947 safely tucked away for posterity although his reign was not too much to rave about, we welcomed the New Year with hopes of a lower cost of living. We thought that the war had been in the past, sufficient time to allow for a more normal living basis. How right or wrong we were will come out as we journey through a year of progress.

Right smack in the middle of the January first issue of The Independent we saw the word "Cop." This situation was to be with us very near all year. A deplorable situation when nominations for office in the Town Council were not filed. Interest in such affairs was definitely lacking. The Independent carried an item about the formation of the Missionary Sisters of Christian Charity. The Peach Kings started right by whipping Fort Colborne in the league opener. The paper advertised for a book-keeper.

January 8—Only 22 people voted against retaining the franchise of the Natural Gas Company. Two hundred and ninety-six voted. A deplorable situation. Grimsby became the first centre to vote out the policing of the town by the Provincial Police. A second nomination meeting to form a Town Council was necessary. Soggy Greens of Dunnville, whips the Peach Kings.

January 15—The Fruit Growers' Association celebrated its 50th birthday. The hauling of water to meet the acute shortage of same had developed into a big time business. Peggy O'Neil announced the booking of Laney Rose for a two night engagement at The Inn. Bill Sterling got behind a Midget Hockey team which was entered in the O.M.H.A. The roof at Welland Arena caved in on the Peach Kings as Crowland whipped them nine to two.

January 22—A waterworks project was under consideration, would supply townships and also Smithville and Beamsville. (What ever happened to this idea?) Walter West, highly esteemed citizen and popular barber, passed away suddenly. Prices continued to soar instead of retreat. The Peach Kings defeat Fort Dalhousie in overtime. Niagara Fruit Growers were warned of stiff competition from the United States. The first of seven veteran houses on the Aitchison Survey was opened. Al Hoffman was the lucky man.

January 29—Col. G. R. Chetwynd was installed as President of the local Canadian Legion Branch. A new accounting firm, Marion and Hendricks, opened offices here. Frank L. Laundry, Reeve of Beamsville, was elected to the Wardenship of Lincoln County. Ice jams caused a water panic in Grimsby. The second nomination meeting found a better turnout, and it appeared that Grimsby would soon have a full slate of town officials. It was six below today, but it was twenty four below sixty years ago to-day. A Ladies' Auxiliary was formed for the assistance of the 1st Grimsby Troop of Boy Scouts. The Falls defeated the Peach Kings five to three.

February 5—This was truly the story of the year, for the total destruction by fire of the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital came as a shock to thousands. The fact that no lives were lost was the only bright side of the picture. Water pressure on the hill was widely discussed. Edward Panford was found in his closed garage, apparently a victim of carbon monoxide fumes. Don Staples arrived to manage the Roney Theatre. The Peach Kings managed to tie the Crowland Bisons. The Grimsby Fire Department donated $1,000.00 toward a new hospital already being planned.

February 12—A second fire completely levelled the Hewson Basket Factory. Hamilton and Beamsville Departments were called. Hamilton Chief full on the ice, which was about all they did manage to accomplish. Mayor Bull and Councilor Sam Bonham had a heated discussion concerning—you guessed it—the police situation. The Grimsby Flayers' Guild staged a big show—very successful. Peach Kings and Crowland prepared for the Intermediate "A" Championship of the Niagara District. The Kings had just finished winning the group. Those food prices still did not show signs of coming down.

February 19—Constable Seymour gave those advocates of a town police system a shot in the arm when he captured a shopbreaker single handed. Work was getting underway at the new sewage disposal plant. The switches were pulled at the pump-house due to the shortage of electric power. Lord's Day Alliance slaps down Beamsville Lions Club plans for a Sunday concert. The Hospital Campaign was due to open the next week. Charles McKinney was charged with assaulting Chief of Police Turner. Another shortage cropped up, this time it was natural gas. Cold weather was blamed for this one. The 12th was unlucky for the Peach Kings as Crowland beat 'em two games.

February 25—Ted Hope was put in charge of the Grimsby Detachment of the Provincial Police. The Hospital Drive for fifty thousand dollars was on in full swing. C.H.M.L. Hamilton did a great job for the Hospital on a Sunday night broadcast. The Lord's Day Alliance did not interfere. The Peach Kings did not interfere. The Hydro shortage (temp. more acute as time elapsed) was announced that 1947 fruit it broke all existing records. A successful jambovie was held at High School with all Fruit Belt troops of Scouts attending.

March 4—The tax rate was struck at 44 mil. Dr. Mayor Arthur Hewson passed away after a lengthy illness. David Nova, popular United States tenor was booked for a Village Inn date. Crowland won their protest and the Kings were shoved up into Senior "B". The O.H.A. exactly popular as a result their decision. Grimsby Lions Club gave $1,000 to the Hospital Fund.

March 11—A special show was held for the Hospital Fund at the Beam Theatre, Beamsville. Males were light throughout the County. (Very spotty news this week. Six of the vets homes on the Aitchison Survey were bearing completion. British Columbia was listed as a sure threat to Ontario fruit industry. Item. The lowest temperature was zero. (So was the news this week.)

March 18—First two air immigrants arrived from England. Both chaps are painters. Basket factories were amalgamated with the new name for the outfit being the Canadian Wood Products Ltd. Board of Education said okay to Lions proposal for a grandstand at the Public School. Beamsville Council expressed dissatisfaction of the St. Catharines-Lincoln Health Unit. Peach Kings tie series with Manga. St. Louis and Detroit win Midget Hockey League. Everything was going along as well as could be expected at Nixon Hall—temporary West Lincoln Hospital.

March 25—Peach Kings put up a great fight in Senior "B" but were defeated by Sarnia. The Council decided to buy the Fire Department a new fire truck. (The truck has since arrived but stands sans equipment as yet.)

April 1—Butter was ten cents a pound. (April Fool!) Balm spring was on its way and everyone was happy. It had been a tough winter, what with gas shortages, power shortages, water shortages, and according to the files of The Independent, news shortages also. Baby chicks were being gassed for lack of buyers. Tourist camps were now to be licensed. Crowland were defeated by Markham and everybody were so tough we wrote about in Grimsby was happy. Things Muskrat trapping. Chester D. Jarvis, F.R.D., died at his home.

April 8—The town was saddened by the death of William Ralph Boehm. Tons of rock was being thrown around the pump house, to save it from being carried away by the waves of Lake Ontario. The body of Gordon Philips, Beamsville resident, was found in the Grand River. The Ontario Construction Company were making rapid progress on the disposal plant. The Lions Club held a special entertainment for the sons and young friends of its members.

April 15—North Grimsby Township claimed that their sidewalks were being damaged by heavy trucks. The Metal Craft installed a new sprinkler system. Firemen had a busy time with several small fires. We went veddy veddy high-powered as Mr. Dickson-Kenwin, distinguished Shakespearean actor, made an appearance here.

April 22—The Independent carried a feature story on a citizen of Grimsby, Eli Davis. His photo by Aldrick was one of the classic photos of the year. Fire partially destroyed the 100 year old home of the Book Brothers. The Board of Education bought a plot of land next to the High School for use in the Agriculture Course. The Lions Musical Revue was a great success. The Lions Club also played host to 15 Clubs at the Spring Rally, held at Hotel Henley. Gordon Hannah, proprietor of the Grimsby House claimed "a lack of protection." Two disturbances were being investigated.

April 29—Premier George Drew opened his campaign at Beamsville. The new site for the Hospital was selected. The building will be erected on the Nelles property, No. 8 Highway, half way between the Beach and Grimsby. Chief Turner was given a vote of confidence by the Council. The library opened a new department. Records of classical music were made available to the public. Contrary to reports the Pop and Jive selections were not stocked. The Chamber of Commerce suddenly came to life and announced a big advertising scheme to interest manufacturers in locating here. The Provincial Police opened their radio hookup at Niagara Falls. (This system of two way radio for Provincial Police was considered as one of the greatest steps for the prevention and combating of crime to make its appearance in years.) The first asparagus of the season sprung through the soil.

May 6—Spring, spring bootiful spring. Lots of people suffered from spring colds in the head, while others attempted to be clear headed for election time was drawing nigh. Col. Drew blasted Jolliffe for slandering the Provincials, while Jolliffe assailed Drew and a third candidate by the name of Oliver for anything that appeared to make good copy. The Grimsby Lions celebrated their tenth birthday, and residents of the Aitchison Terrace raised Old Ned about the assessments. Tod Daley was nominated.

and most people paused to honour their mother. Rev. J. P. McLeod was inducted at St. John's.

May 13—Hundreds flocked through the peninsula to view the blossoms, and tourist home operators were still having trouble with the Department of Highways with regard to the erection of signs PFC. John VanDyke of the United States Army was buried in Queen's Lawn. The election campaign was getting hotter, and the first magic words of summer—so!ball, crept into the sports page. Fruit farmers were being deluged with reports of crop failures.

May 20—Andy Clarke the "Mayor of Little Places" passed away suddenly at his home in York Mills. The hospital site was approved and plans were going ahead for a speedy construction job. The good old Grimsby Council passed a motion to adjourn at eleven o'clock and the very same night met until 11.30. Carroll's big new super market opened on Main Street. In this supplement concerning the opening of the store we found butter at ten cents a pound, eggs at three dozen for a quarter. Of course, this was away back in 1896.

May 27—Tulips were now in bloom. The forecasters were predicting a Tory victory. The West Lincoln Branch of the Canadian Legion held their annual sports day at the High School. Dr. Jeffs was made M.O.H. for the Health Unit. News was pretty scarce so we went fishin'. Didn't catch a darn thing, either.

The Future West Lincoln Memorial Hospital

The Directors and staff, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of your Hospital extend best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Our third year of service to the public has been one of very limited operation, conducted as it is in temporary quarters at Nixon Hall. A very understanding group of patients, numbering some seven hundred have received care in this emergency location, and have been very appreciative of our difficulties. We all look forward to the bright promise of the New Year, with the new hospital completed, and an increased scope of service made available to the people of West Lincoln.

Retrospect . . .

June 3—Going into the halfway mark of the year 1948, C. D. Millyard was named president of the Grimsby Lions Club. Port Dalhousie was made a town with a population of 2,400. Polling booths were named and still the politicians were swinging at each other. Fellow named Oliver was mentioned occasionally. The Town Council was doing a good business selling lots in the Fairview section. Donald Norris was being brought back for a return engagement at the Village Inn.

June 10—The Independent scooped the country with a story on the new modern school at Jordan. Speaking of Jordan, they formed a Lions Club there sponsored by the Beamsville Club. The Election was very quiet. Drew won the Premiership and two other fellows, Jolliffe and Oliver, also ran. The farmerettes arrived at the Grimsby Beach Camp. Harold and Myrt White opened their new store on Main Street. Some shooch crashed into the Beach Bridge with a load of chickens. Residents went off to work for the next few days.

June 17—Allied Fruit Farms shipped fifty crates of strawberries by air to the east coast. The Council issued building permits totalling $35,000. All the talk about a crop failure seemed to have created a shortage of baskets. A separate dial exchange was announced for Stoney Creek, which should help the dear little blue bells in Winona, which is a pretty busy board. We got around to recognizing Father, whose big day was this week. The softball season was well underway. Grimsby having two teams on paper but only one on the diamond.

June 24—First leaders were called for the new hospital. Down at the Beach, swimming classes were inaugurated. The shape of things to come was illustrated on our front page where an artist's conception of the hospital was shown. There were 1842 births in Lincoln last year. Work was progressing nicely on the sewage disposal plant. The winning streak of the Smithville team was snapped by the Grimsby Merchants. The first sweet cherries were on the market, and although there were some pretty spotty crops, the predicted failures failed to materialize. The Allway School celebrated its 50th birthday, while all over the Province the kids were out for the summer vacation. Summer was here at last.

July 1st—To-day Canada was eighty-one years young, and at least one sign of progress appeared in this July 1st issue—the largest telephone directory ever compiled was distributed here. Lumley construction built a home ready for its tenant to move into in just thirty days. Victory Maja was the umpteenth fellow to purchase the Caribou Inn. Prices going down . . . that's a joke. Haircuts had just been raised to sixty-five cents per clipping.

July 8—P. V. Smith had just been elected as Governor for district A-2 of Lions International Now, instead of crop failures, the experts were predicting bumper yields. Even strawberries were bountiful. The Independent had difficulty timate was little Kenneth Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Austin, who was burned to death in his crib as flash fire levelled their ramshackle dwelling on the Nelles farm. Tourist camps were packed to the eyebrows, and tourists were sleeping in their vehicles. A. W. Eckmeier and Ben handled over 20,000 packages of fruit in single day. Control of the Jordan Winery changed hands.

September 14—Defective wiring was blamed for the disastrous blaze in the Peach Dairy Bar, owned by William Thompson. The Council was still having trouble in their efforts to obtain additional land for Queen's Lawn Cemetery. Miss Mildred Dixon, and Miss Ivy M. Stinson announced the opening of El Rancho Cambrian, the district's newest dining room. School attendance reached an all-time high. Jack Knowles won the Ontario Singles Lawn Bowling Championship. Smithville knocked off Mt. Hope in their search for an Ontario championship.

September 21—The first news that was to plague citizens for months to come was announced. Hydro power was scarce again. The Packers were shipping damson plums to Virginia via trucks. Smithville finally met their Waterloo when Cookville beat them out. As we looked forward to fall and another winter, we could notice no change in the prices for the everyday staples of adequate living. True we were not going to starve to death, but a five dollar bill still bought only about a third of the necessary provisions for an average family per week. Housing had not improved, and every day our own Canadian papers carried stories of families being broken up because suitable housing could not be obtained. The most deplorable situation was right in Hamilton, where families faced the possibility of living in tents and cardboard huts. While we felt sorry for such instances, nothing was ever done until some drastic move was made, usually when a child became sick, or a distraught mother gave up the battle and deserted her brood. Strikes continued to play an important role in the Canadian scene, with the McKinnon strike standing out as the worst of the year.

September 26—Chief of Police Turner threw a bombshell at the Town Council who had been having a bad year of it. The Chief resigned. They promptly hired a new constable and gave him a higher salary than Turner had ever received. The Hydro situation was becoming acute, and people were urged to conserve power whenever possible. Another shortage appeared on the scene, when basket manufacturers could not begin to keep up with the demand for containers.

October 7—Impressive ceremonies marked the placing of the corner stone by Hon. Russell T. (Continued on page 14)

interviewing the first family of Dutch people to come to this district. The mouldy item concerning lake erosion was again brought to the fore . . . no action taken. Over three hundreds kids were receiving swimming instruction courtesy of the Red Cross.

July 15—The water situation was serious in Grimsby, not only was it scarce, but reports of it being polluted caused a furor. The big crisis of the week, however, was a threatened railway strike. Fruit shippers were wondering just how they would ship the growers' products if the trains ceased to operate. William Mitchell, certainly one of the outstanding figures in municipal affairs in these parts passed away after a lengthy illness.

The Lions held their eleventh great carnival. The local bus line jacked its prices up . . .

July 22—The Victorian Order of Nurses announced that they had made a total of 510 calls in Lincoln during the month of June. The Firemen were planning their carnival, while vague reports of an attempted holdup of the Lions hockey from their carnival were reported. The best news, however, to us was the fact that we along with thousands of others were going on vacation.

July 28—No paper . . . oh happy vacation.

August 9th—Back to the grind, and reports filtered in concerning the contamination of water at local beaches. Swimming was declared unsafe down as far as Baker's Road, but the Beach was declared okay. Several accidents on highways near here dominated the front page. Mr. John M. King opened up a law office in town. Smithville looked like a sure bet for the Fruit Belt Softball championship. The annual threat of poliomyelitis was at its peak.

August 12—An unofficial and turning ceremony marked the progress being made for the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital. A fire threatened the Ortho Block in Beamsville's Main Street section. The water rates were given a boost here, and the Township water account was reported to be very much in the red. The Peach Beds local baseball outfit were eliminated by Thorold in semi-finals.

August 19—Expert safe crackers pulled a hot job at the Cold Storage walking off with the cash box after blowing the safe. The Red Cross swimming meet held at Grimsby Beach was most successful, and a large crowd witnessed some very fine aquatic events by local contestants as well as swimmers and divers from other points. George Campbell of Vineland was instantly killed in a level crossing accident. The first case of poliomyelitis was reported in Lincoln, the victim being an eighteen year old from Beamsville. A supposed hit and run victim turned out to be a mere case of over indulgence. The biggest upset of the softball season came when Beamsville defeated Stoney Creek, thereby eliminating the Creeks from further competition. Smithville won the Fruit Belt Championship as expected.

August 24—The old hospital site was sold back to the Eames family for one buck. Employees of John Stadelmeier went on strike for higher wages. Town Council decided that in the future, no person could start building without first obtaining the necessary permit. Grape growers screamed like all got out as grape prices were announced with a $17.50 decrease per ton over last year. Smithville defeated Jordan in the quarter finals of the Intermediate "C" playoffs.

September 2—A prolonged heat wave and drought worried fruit growers and caused many hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to late fruit crops. Ex-Mayor of Grimsby R. H. Lewis passed away at his home on K-24 Avenue. Reece Niles of North Grimsby attempted to get dry ice dropped from the sky in an attempt to obtain a rainfall. The new sewage plant was nearing completion.

September 9—A midnight blaze threatened the Thompson Block here as pet dog caves here of woman and two kiddies. Not so for-

Bake in a moderately hot electric oven, 400 degs. 7 to 10 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Makes about 12. These are extremely good and will keep (unbaked) in the refrigerator indefinitely. Very handy for these busy holidays.

FLUFFY CUSTARD SAUCE

Scald 1 cup milk. Separate 3 eggs, beat yolks with fork, add 3 tablespoons sugar and few grains salt. Gradually add the scalded milk. Place in double boiler over hot water. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens, about 8 minutes; cool. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into cooled custard with 1 teaspoon vanilla.

CARROT PUDDING

1 cup grated raw carrots
1 cup grated raw potato
1 cup chopped nut
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup raisins
1 cup currants
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt

Mix and sift dry ingredients then mix all together. Fill greased mold 2-3 full. Cover loosely with parchment paper, place in steamer and steam a full three hours. (You'll find the potatoes make the pudding light and the carrots give it a lovely rich brown colour.) You may add 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon cloves if you like it spiced, or add 1 teaspoon almond flavouring, 1/4 cupful chopped blanched almonds.

and 1/4 cup mixed peel. For a still richer pudding, add 1/4 cup glazed cherries, 1/4 cup chopped candied peel, 1/4 cup chopped dates. In either case add an extra tablespoon of flour to the mixture. It's a fool-proof pudding so develop your own special brand.

WARM LITTLE FUR CAPE

By PRUNELLA WOOD

NOT EVERY little fur cape is as warm as this chic daytime model, on account of few if any capes sport half-sleeves as does this Argentine nutria model. The front stays nice and flat to the figure, the back flirts down and out, the excellent neckline with rolled collar is scarfed with shot taffeta to match the cape lining.

Today is a day when many lucky families step on the starter of the station wagon, and roll home to Thanksgiving dinner . . . perhaps through right nasty November weather. Such a fur as this is dandy for such travels, or any other car jaunts, for it keeps one warm above the lap robe, with no fur skirt to drag or bunch up annoyingly.—Saks Fifth Ave.

Business girls living away from home are faced with the problem of how to entertain beau, so this is a column especially for them.

Let's be honest—every girl wants to be married, and the one who can entertain a young man in her own home, with congenial surroundings, and can offer food, soft music and that happy touch, has a much better chance of snaring her man.

The business girl who lives in a rooming house, occupying a bedroom, can't entertain in her room. She must find other ways of occasionally demonstrating gratitude or proffering hospitality to a young man who has taken her out quite a lot, and for whom her heart is beginning to beat faster, and more romantically.

If this is the case and she is not in a position to entertain, she could knit her man a pair of socks. It is always an acceptable gift and not too personal to be in good taste. Or, she could give him a year's subscription to his favorite magazine, saying as she presents it "I'm sorry I am not in a position to entertain but I do appreciate the good times you have given me and this is just a little gift to express my appreciation."

Another way is to entertain for the beau on the occasion of his birthday by giving a little dinner in a restaurant and having another couple along to make it a festive occasion. This needn't be done expensively and can be arranged tactfully in advance so the table will be reserved. She can pay for the dinner in advance or ask the man of the other couple to take charge of paying it for her, so that the beau for whom she is entertaining will not have any responsibility or embarrassment.

If the young man has a car and takes the girl driving in the summertime, she can do her share by providing a picnic luncheon.

Perhaps the nicest way of all, the most practical and impressive as far as the young man is concerned, is for the business girl to occasionally borrow the living room of a friend's home. She can entertain her beau for an evening there, serve refreshments for him which she made herself—and showing him she can cook never does any harm. She can return the kindness shown by her hostess by offering to come back another evening by herself to sit with the baby, wash dishes, do some mending or otherwise donating her services in a helpful way.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q If you admire the hat, dress or jewelry that a person is wearing, is it polite to say so?

A Yes. A compliment is polite any time.

Q I am training my young son to rise every time he is introduced and we have many an argument over it, so have decided to put it up to you.

A Your son is going to hate me but you are right and he might as well get used to rising on all occasions when being introduced to anyone.

"MY WEEK" . . . .

By R. J. DEACHMAN

Does the world owe you a living? The last word I have on that question is very clear, definite and explicit—it doesn't. If you want to get a living you have to go out and hunt for it and the best of good luck to you.

It happened this way: I offered a small prize for the best answers to seven definite assertions, were they true or were they false? I give you now some of the answers received. If you can think of better answers drop me a line and I'll send you a copy of the prize winning answer to the whole seven.

The world owes everybody a living," so ran the statement, and one of the best answers received to this statement came from Walter Dale of Montreal:

(1)—True, but to collect you must present your bill for services rendered.

Good wasn't it. He gave a definite answer. It took only twelve words. It means that you and I and the rest of the people must give something for what we get.

Another reply was:

(2)—False, even birds and beasts work for a living.

This answer came from F. H. Avery, Wetaskiwin, Alberta. It too is quite convincing. If the birds and beasts can't get away with it how can men and women get what they want without working for it.

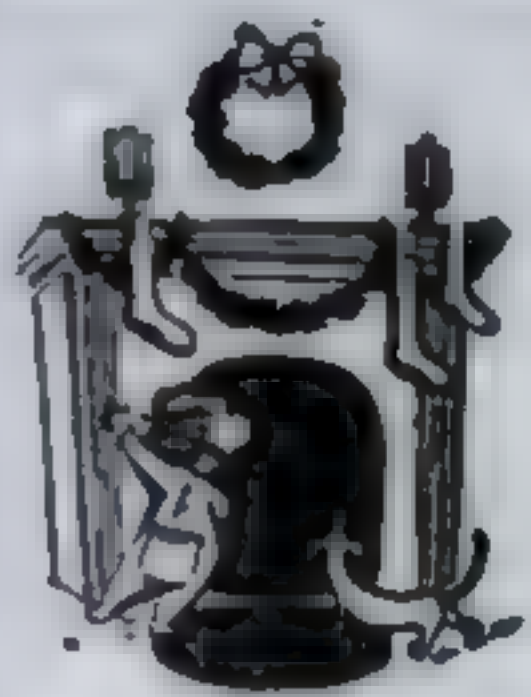

Here's another answer to the same statement:

(3)—False, the world is everybody and everybody is the world. Rather absurd.

It is absurd when you put it that way, isn't it? If it were true that the world owes everybody a living it would mean that all the people of the world owe all the people of the world a living. We say many things lightly—how little there is in them when we come to think of it.

HAROLD STEEDMAN

Here is a man who had a solid concept of reality. His reply was:

(4)—False, all must meet their obligations, make a living and leave the world better for our sojourn.

I like his statement. If that thought could be buried deep in the hearts of men and women the world might be a great deal happier in another hundred years.

Here is the next assertion. "This is an age of plenty."

Think over that for a minute.
Then read what the experts say.
This came from Gilbert Jackson of Toronto:

(1)—True for those fortunate enough to live in North America, for the remaining eighteen hundred millions on this planet, no.

Here's another answer from an entirely different point of view:

(2)—Comparatively speaking more people have more material possessions than ever before but there is still a terrific demand.

(3)—False," says John Atkins of Brockville. "The most plentiful thing we have in this world is the illusion that planners can stretch scarce commodities to supply everyone."

Now take this question: "Is it possible to increase production so as to give every Canadian a much higher standard of living?" From Wilfrid Eggleston, well known broadcaster and writer came this reply:

"Yes, but it means harder work or better utilization of existing resources."

From a western banker came this reply to a very different statement:

"The size of the national debt is wholly unimportant." His reply was brief and to the point:

"The size of the national debt should be in line with ability to produce and capacity to repay."

To the statement: "If we have good times in war we can have good times in peace," a B.C. banker gave this reply:

"In war we increase the debt and thereby the interest burden. In peace we pay off that debt or go bankrupt."

There were no foolish replies. By someone else reading them I have increased my faith in the people of Canada. We may make mistakes but we are not stupid—we are not swept off

our feet by catch-words.

What is the greatest single problem before the world today?

It may sound startling but if we take the world as a whole the real question is: "Where is the next meal coming from?"

I have just written a review of a book entitled: "Road To Survival."
The fact is that the resources of the world are not unlimited. This book should be read by every thoughtful Canadian. I will be glad to send a copy of my review of this book to anyone who may be interested. My address is 55 Queen Street, Ottawa.

RONALD COLMAN LEADS
"A DOUBLE LIFE"

One of the most thrilling stage performances ever incorporated in a motion picture will be seen in "A Double Life" playing at the Rex on Monday and Tuesday,
Dec. 20th and 21st. The film stars Ronald Colman in the story of a great Broadway actor who becomes so engrossed with his stage roles that he carries their characteristics into his personal life. This obsession results in many fantastic adventures. As a motivating influence for his complex behaviour, there are scenes of Colman on the stage playing the title role, of "Othello"—first on the opening night, later after the play has been running six months and then as it goes into its second year. This picture marks Colman's first venture as a Shakespearean actor.
However, even though the scenes are brief, his performance as Othello will long be remembered.
"A Double Life" also brings to the screen a new and radiant Signe Hansen. Colman's performance in this film won for him the Academy Award. Those who see the film will undoubtedly agree that Colman's performance was the best in 1942 and worthy of an Oscar.

It's human to err and also hunan to try to place the blame on others.

REMEMBERING CANADIAN PIONEERS

Something different in the way of eating is this one at Yukon, B.C., erected in memory of early pioneers of the district. Embedded among the native rocks are around 30 Indian stone handaxes, said to have been used by the plains Indians in making pemmican, a mixture of dried buffalo meat, fat and native berries. The inscription on the cone is framed with carved stone arrowheads and reads "In memory of those men and women who in the early eighties of the nineteenth century, endured the privations of pioneer life and founded homes in western Canada."

HOW FAR UP IS HIGH

Mount Robson in B.C. is more than two miles high, but Mount Logan in the Yukon is almost four miles high.

THE STAFF OF LIFE

Canadian farms grow enough wheat in a year to meet the normal bread requirements of ninety-two million people.

Retrospect . . .

progress in this great old year. The Town had a few new homes, but still not enough to meet the demand. Those brave people who had met spiraling prices and built homes were to be congratulated by some—and called suckers by others. Is this the progress we mentioned?

John Doe says: "Any man who builds to-day, and pays the prices demanded by the lumber yards, the carpenters, the masons, electricians and so on—he's a jerk. Prices will be down next year, 'just wait and see' . . ."

John Smith says: "Prices are not going down this year or for years to come if you want to build and get the money to do it, or are in with the finance company, go ahead and build. At least you'll have something permanent, something to call your own, after your through with the mortgage loan, of course."

Progress—Can we measure our progress in the fact relief rolls are practically non-existent. Have been for years. We are eating aren't we? We are buying new cars, new washing machines, fridges, etc. Yes, we are when you can get them. We still appear to be coasting along on the long lip of a wave that spread money all over when the war was on. Some of us say, "The depression will hit next year."

"Okay, so the depression is coming, what can we do to prevent it?"

"Live while you can."

"Okay! Let's live." Or are we to measure our progress with simple little things such as we have covered in the last shell, then tie the last knot directly above, and your bell is ready for your tree.

What a gay and appealing Christmas Bell Of thread, a button, a bead, and a shell!

OUR MOST FAMOUS CHRISTMAS TREES

Most famous of the nation's Christmas trees are growing on the wooded rolling acres of the Roosevelt estate at Hyde Park, N.Y. Developed as a result of hobby which occupied much of the late Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt's spare time the groves of Yule trees now are scattered on odd patches and parcels of land throughout the estate.

The trees, about 370,000 in number, are principally of Norway spruce, white spruce and Douglas fir, with a few balsams also included.

Although the tree growing was a hobby with the late president, he insisted that the project pay its own way. Consequently about 2,000 to 3,000 trees are marketed every Christmas season.

JUST IN TIME . . . . Youngsters all over will sleep with one eye open on Christmas Eve—if they are lucky they might see Santa's feet as he hurries on his way. These youngsters arrived in time to hear, "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a goodnight."

SPORTRAYAL

By "HIGH" MCGREGOR

Honest to gosh there is so much hockey news coming this week that it is difficult to know just where to start in. Actually this winter will be a "back to normal" campaign to develop hockey players from Grimsby and points east, west and south. Before the war, the local arena schedule included a raft of teams in minor hockey O.M.A. and right up to O.M.A. teams.

For a Town with a population of around 2,500 here is exactly what has been formed here this season. Starting from the bottom, the Lions Midget League comes first. Here over a hundred boys are getting a chance to play organized hockey, under the guiding hand of William Nelson. Next comes a recently announced Grimsby Juvenile team, which will take its place in the Junior Peach Belt Hockey League. The next step on the ladder is the Junior "C" O.M.A.

entry now being shipped into shape. This outbacked by William Nelson, sportsman of Grimsby B.C., will also participate in the Junior Peach Belt set-up, working on bye until the playoffs of this competition get underway sometime in February.

The latest team which has been in the rumour stage for the past week or so is the intermediate "B" team. More in line in the embryo stage as yet, this crew made up mostly of ex-Peach Kings intend to play in the Peach Belt League, and are hopeful of obtaining a bye into the intermediate "B" playoffs. To round out the hockey situation locally we have of course the Peach Kings playing this year in the tough Senior "A" loop. Not bad for a community this size, huh!

The Peach Belt League is scheduled to go Monday, December 20. Playing three games every Monday night, this loop has been active for sometime, and this year is made up of six teams: Winona, Stony Creek, Mt. Hope Grimsby, Vineland and Grimsby.

Although this loop is deserving of the fans support especially those who like the rugged style of hockey which seems to go hand in glove with this league, development of players is of secondary importance.

If a player shows any promise he is usually picked up for a higher grade before he works out with one of these teams, which primarily is for the entertainment of a host of fellows who most certainly deserve the right to play hockey if they are so inclined.

In the newly formed Junior Peach Belt League, however, we have a league that should command the people's support, for in these beds are the prospective players of the future. There is the class that will develop a boy from a run of the mill shiny player into a possible hockey star.

Playing for the most part on Wednesday night, this minor hockey night is richly deserving of our support, and the men who have heeded the idea are to be congratulated for taking the interest to provide boys from this entire area with such an outlet.

This loop got underway last night at the Arena, with the following teams swinging into action. Juvenile teams from Stony Creek, Winona, Grimsby, Fruitland and Beamanville, and the Junior "C" crew making up the sixth entry.

Although none of the teams have had sufficient practice sessions, it was decided to swing right into action. Final selections for all concerned must be completed by the end of the month. We highly endorse the loop, and urge you hockey fans to pay a visit to the arena on Monday nights between seven and ten— you think you'll like the brand of hockey and become a regular patron. The schedule appears elsewhere in this issue. Admission is twenty-five cents for adults, a dime for children.

Ken Clarke of Fruitland is the hard-working proxy of this Junior League while the old war horse of Winona, Tom Collin will act as secretary.

BOILED OVER Johnny Hale sharpshooters' forward on the Peach Kings has been dropped from the active squad. Alf MacMillan, the former goalie for the Kings, is reported to be the outlander for the intermediate "B" team being formed. Other members include Red Mason, Mush Miller, Frank Hill, Doug Whitfield. Roy Farrell has supposedly replaced the job of coaching this crew. Speaking of Mush Miller, the lad has received his O.M.A. card, and is now an official linesman. Dutch Kenzie and Don Harvey, two Beamanville boys are officially connected with the Ontario Minor Hockey Association as referee and linesman. What happened to Beamanville in the Peach Belt League? Could it be they have got on a slow boat to China.

One of the really bright prospects on the hockey horizon is a kid by the name of Murphy, who hails from Mt. Hope. Fifteen years of age the kid looks like a corner Murphy has signed with the Grimsby Junior squad.

With goal-keeper Doug Whitfield and Miller Kilpatrick backstopping all four corners for a playing-mate, the Ramsey Philp, Paul Whitford, Mangan are having plenty of trouble. One of the Toronto-based players is laughing up his shirt over at Mr. Philp. My first 100 Years Celebration is to write a little story on just how this winter might be his famous kick. But they're quite a crew believe me right down to their last petty change.

Did you know that Whitfield fans have packed their desks the rafters for each home game of their favourite team? A few we know successfully gained entrance to Maple Leaf Gardens, and the Leafs in action (This is a very tough job to do!) But remember, from now on I'll look to Foster Hewitt, his manner of announcing the game is much better than watching the effort of your own eyes. Nice tribute to the ubiquitous Mr. Hewitt.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

THE CASE OF THE HUNGRY JOCKEY

(Condensed from the book "Golden Opinions, in Reader's Digest")

When I was a cub reporter for the New York Herald Tribune I covered races at Jamaica and met a famous jockey we'd better call Williams. He had at one time led his profession in season's winners—some 300 winners in a single year, or one every working day.

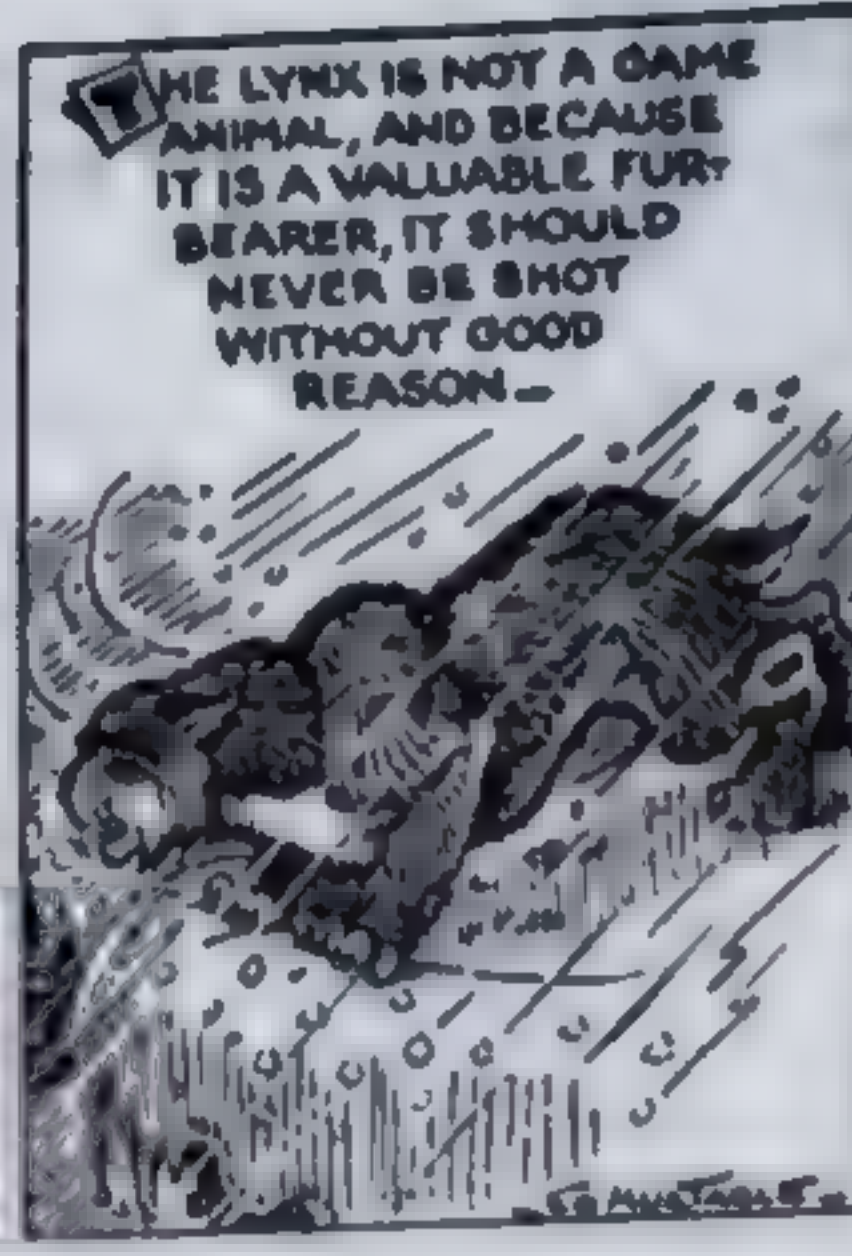

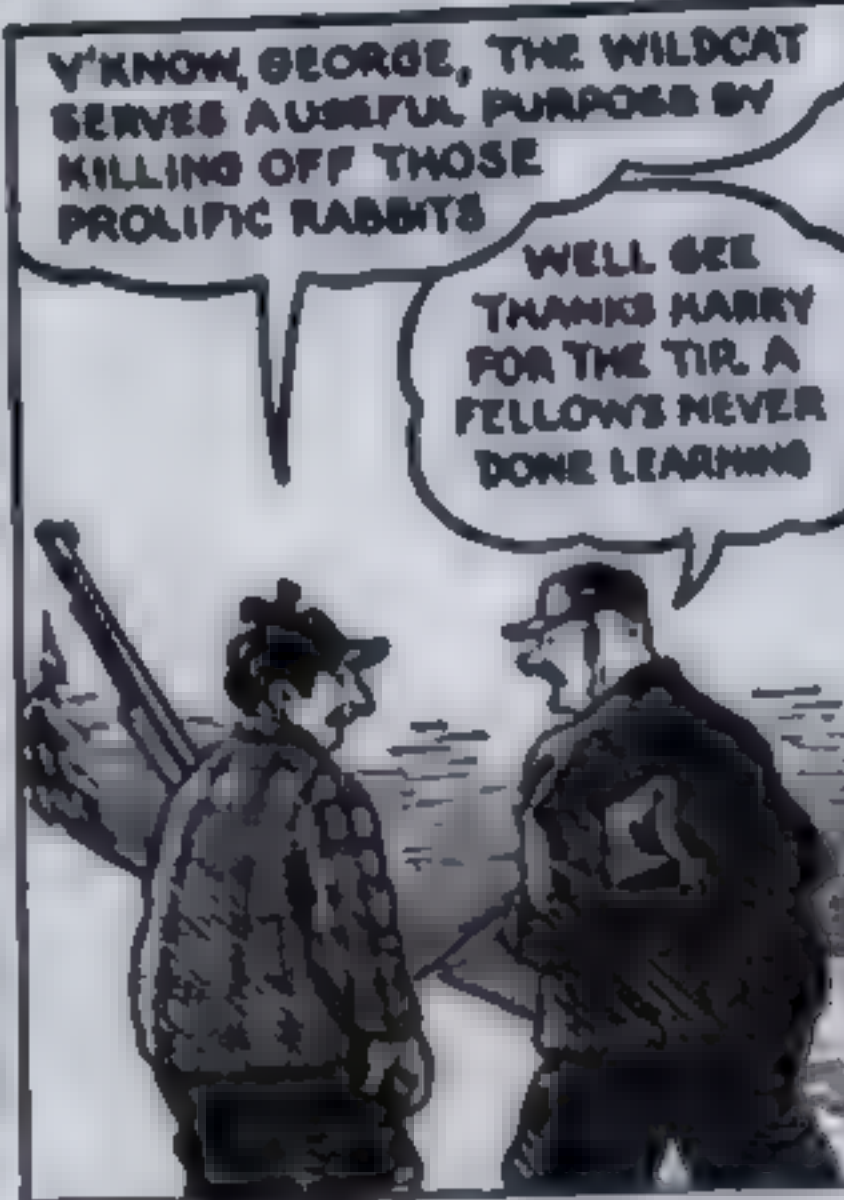

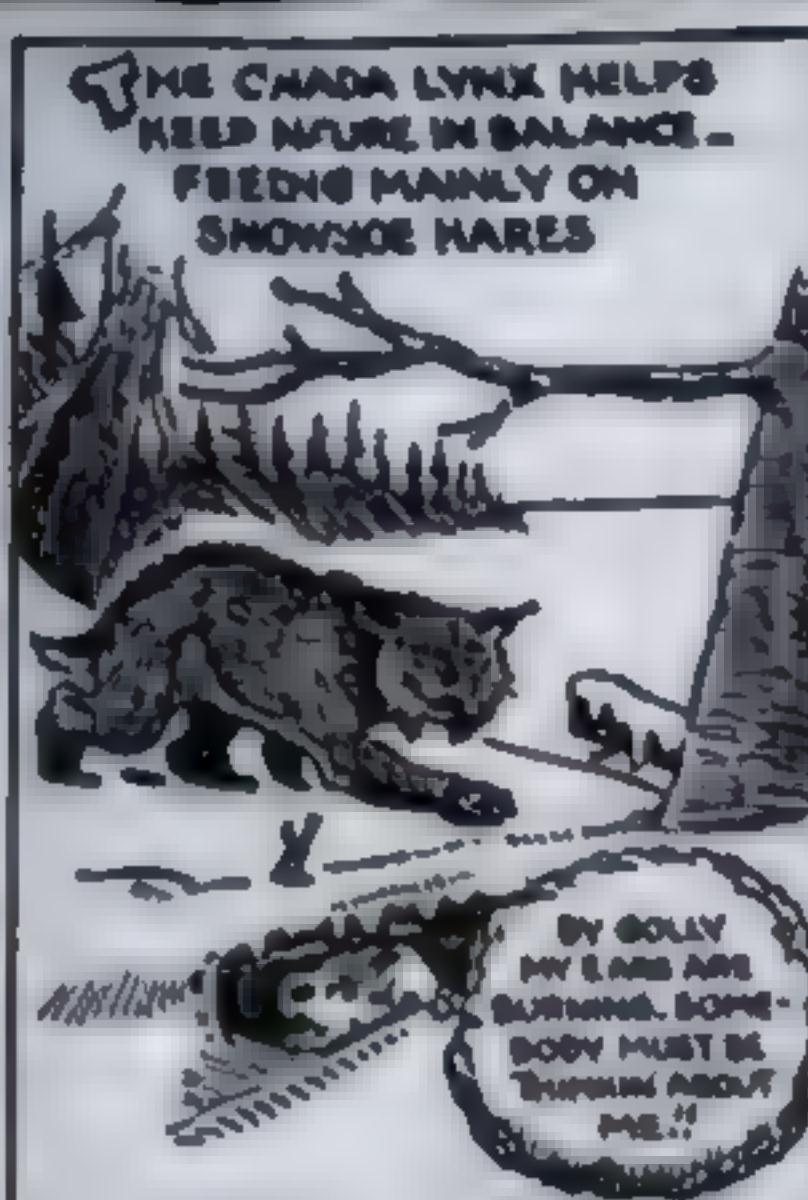

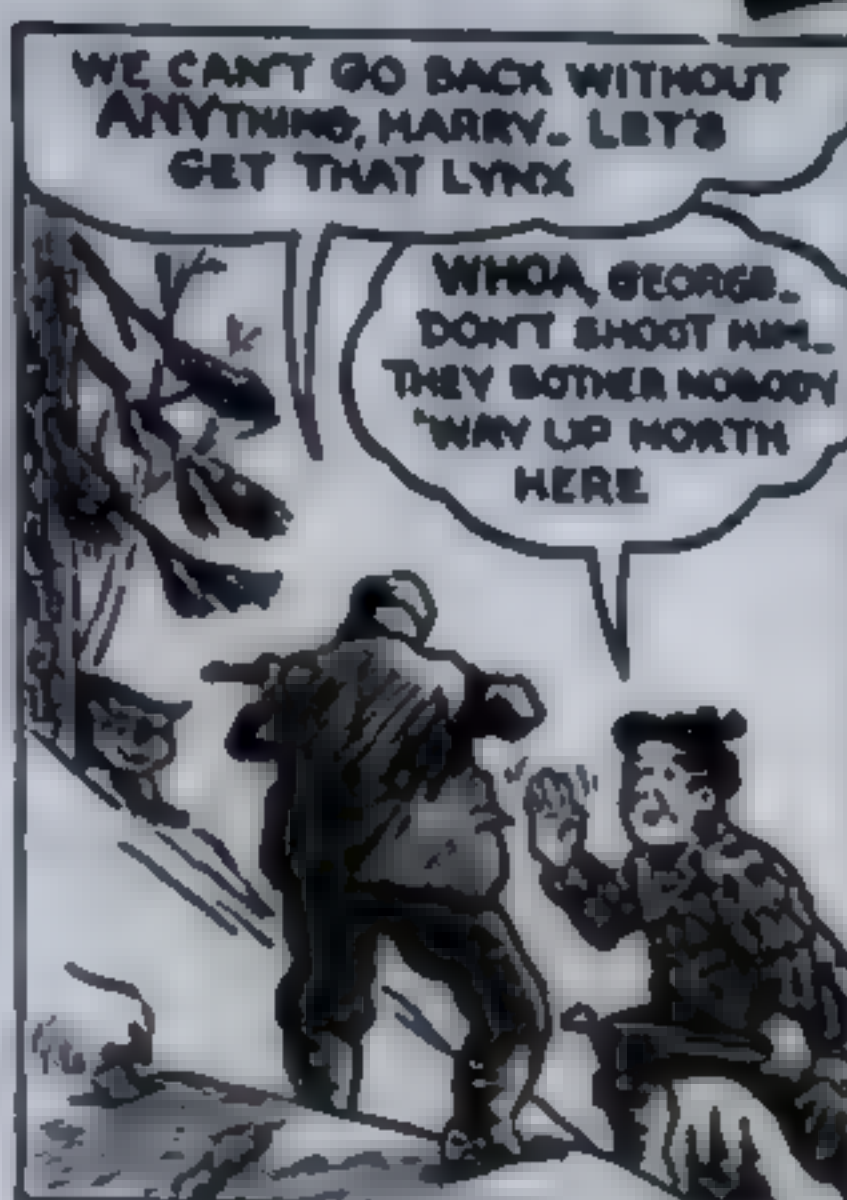

He was tall for a jockey, with the jockey's old face and worn skin. Balding Williams had the bones for a man of 135-140 pounds.

Yet he was required each day to make weights of 110-115 pounds, including his saddle and clothes.

There are many ways to take off weight. Williams told me as we sat in the dressing room alive with the color of racing silks and the high voices of the little people. Dehydration is one method—draining every last ounce of perspiration from the emaciated men. The jockey works out, is massaged, rides and moves about always in a rubber suit that raises his body temperature to 103

YULETIDE THOUGHT

IT IS NEARER—oh, how much nearer! The day when men of good will shall gather together to seek an abiding peace for the world. The Star of Bethlehem shines more brightly this Christmas Season than it did yesteryear. Its portents again look to peace on earth.

But our rejoicing must be tempered with thoughtful realization of days still ahead when many of our people must walk through the valley of the shadow. Let us make the Holiday Season a time to reflect on what must yet be done.

Let us quicken our sympathies, so that we may be ready to aid those who are doing their all to aid their brother man and who may suffer for their sacrifices. Let us be ready to hold out the hand of sincere help to those who may be bereaved.

But, above all, let us once more dedicate ourselves here at home to unstinting and unrelenting service—to the doing of our share, each of us, to speed A World Peace by ardent effort in our toil and by increased support of true peace effort.

This resolved, we may then say in our hearts...

Merry Christmas

degrees while the water pours from him. Steam rooms and hot baths do well, but the rubber suit and starvation are sure.

There's about a tenth as much liquid in a jockey as in most normal people. He rarely drinks anything, even water. A jockey uses no salt. Absolutely none. He eats sparingly.

"What is a day's menu?" I asked.

"Breakfast," said Williams, I never eat."

"What about lunch?"

"A carrot or a tomato."

"Dinner?"

"Lamb chops, broiled—always broiled meat—and salad, vegetables and coffee. Sometimes we get so hungry we can't stand it any more. We sit down and have pastry and gravy, and bread, and fried potatoes, and cheese, and pork, and candy. And we gulp down a lot of water. All the things we're craving for months, years sometimes. We just stuff it down. Then we bring it all up before it gets digested. Like the Romans."

It seemed a precarious health measure.

"More than one jockey had a heart attack afterward, or his stomach ruined with cramps," Williams admitted. "It happens all the time. Don't let 'em tell you it doesn't. I've done it myself. We started in with oysters, then we had thick pea soup. . . . We don't think about much except good eating and drinking." Williams finished miserably.

Just before the first race coffee was brought in, in tiny cups, and every boy raced for the tray. Williams said it had sugar in it, the only sugar he ever got. Each jockey sipped his coffee slowly, for no one could have another cup until after the third race.

After a bit the first bugle sounded. Williams didn't care much if he won or lost the cheap first race. He wanted to take off another pound or two for the big seventh race, and the sun might do it.

Jamaica isn't easy on jockeys; the fans would almost kill you if they could come near you when you lost on a favorite. It was beginning to get Williams, that and the constant thirst and hunger.

I should have seen in his face that day before the sixth race that there was something wrong with the boy—or man of 32. I might have called the chief steward to help him, I thought afterward. But I am so not very often follow your hunches.

The first two horses had gone out through the lane and were beginning to canter when Williams started to twist and turn his head in a sort of rhythm. Most everyone at the track saw it, but a fly-buzzing Williams' head, an uncomfortable middle strap, a loose rein—there were many things which might have caused Williams to jerk his head spasmodically.

Williams was up on Fieldstream, the second favorite. Fieldstream ran well into the front as they neared the first turn, despite Williams' swinging head, or perhaps because Williams was not capable of holding the horse back. By the time the horse was into the straight track, Fieldstream was run all out and had begun to bang Fieldstream finished badly beaten. Williams seemed to have recovered by the end of the race. But when he stepped down at the judges' podium he could scarcely speak.

"What the hell's the matter?" asked the chief steward. "Don't you feel well?"

"I'm O.K., sir," he said. "That was a poor race, hey?"

"I know, sir," said the squeaking man.

It seemed like a bad dream. The seventh-race bugle sounded. This time Williams was on a favorite, heavily backed to win. As the parade went by the press box, Williams seemed terribly thin and agitated, almost white in his dryness.

The same jerking of the head began almost at once. The chief steward saw it clearly this time, and reached for the field telephone. It wouldn't work. A messenger was summoned. But the panics were off before he could get to the starter.

This time the Williams horse got off slowly, and trailed the field. Williams could be seen bobbing and weaving over his mount, as though intoxicated. As the racers moved into the first turn, the favorite was suddenly a horse without a rider.

I did not see Williams fall or jump from the horse. But I watched the riderless favorite come up and win by several lengths himself. The crowd laughed in spite of its name. But the chief steward kept his eyes on the fallen jockey.

Now down on his hands and knees in the fresh, wet sliver of the infield was Williams, his face buried in the greenery, and his head and shoulders bouncing up and down, cowlike. One of the stewards shouted: "Get him out of there! He's eating grass!"

I tried to nail down the story. But the track's official explanation was that Williams had suffered a prior concussion which had recurred this day. I let it go at that.

A week later I went again to the jockey's room, and began to ask questions. No one would talk until finally I tried a big maneuver. "It ain't the first time a man's eaten grass and it won't be the last," he said. "These poor boys got to make the weight or they lose their jobs. They're small, and they can't always get other work at decent wages. So they starve and get thirsty, and every now and then one of 'em can't stand it no longer, and he goes for some handfuls of that wonderful wet grass. I don't blame 'em. And I wouldn't write nothing 'bout it either. Don't put nothing in the paper."

NEWLYWEDS ARE EASILY SPOTTED

You can spot a newly married couple by other ways than the one used by a hotel information clerk, who says that if he asks the questions, they haven't been married long.

They haven't been married long if he notices when her cigarette needs lighting and keeps coming back to her every few minutes at a party to be sure she is getting along all right.

They are still newlyweds if he looks pleased and proud when she calls him a pet name in public.

They haven't been married very long if she listens enthralled when he is telling a story, and refrains from helping him tell it.

They're not long married if they pay more attention to each other than to their food, when dining together in a restaurant.

The marriage is still new if he doesn't look pained when she makes a dumb remark.

They haven't been married long if he thinks her helplessness act is cute.

They haven't been married long if he sees that she is seated in the most comfortable chair instead of grabbing it himself.

They haven't been married long if she lets him do most of the talking.

KINGS STAMPEDE BISONS IN THE THIRD PERIOD TO WIN 6-3

The Peach Kings seemed around for two periods, before they finally started to click, and eventually won an exhibition tilt, with the Crowland Bisons, the final score being a decisive six to three count for the locals.

A somewhat loose schedule has the Kings with several days lay-off, during which time coaches McVicar and Miller have had the boys working out at the arena, and it is safe to say now, that they should be rounding into condition and quite capable of staying with any of the teams in the Big 7 league.

The exhibition game with their old rivals from Crowland was a great chance for them to work on their passing plays, and with Assistant Coach Johnny Miller masterminding the crew, a small crowd saw what almost everyone agrees on—the Peach Kings have got what it takes, although they are definitely lacking in punch at the present time.

Miller made some line changes, which may or may not prove to be the needed scoring power the Kings will need to overtake the leaders of the league. Jack Clancy was brought up from his rearguard position and played along with Hughie Barlow and Ted Hoyle. Bill Hutchinson was given a centre position with Sunny Dunham and Pete Soutar, this move should give some power to the second line, and Hutch looked plenty effective between these two former Aerovon stars.

On the third line, Warner, Blanchard and Duffield still fail to show the power that we can expect from these fast skating locals. This so-called kid line is a favorite with the fans, and should prove to be a high scoring trio as time progresses.

Red Dodds made his second appearance of the young season, this time as a defenseman. The big guy may turn out to be just what we need in front of Leeson. Reid turned in his best performance of the season, while Glas and Hann are also beginning to take their men out in a more effective manner.

The game itself was definitely spotty. The Bisons have a bunch of speedy skaters, who can really struggle up the ice. Perhaps the fact that they fail to play their positions made it difficult for the Kings to click on their passing attempts, but for two periods, the affair was a close checking fray, with just a bit of a shiny touch added.

Russ Hann's screen shot best Bishop late in the first period. Duffield drawing an assist. After the face-off, Crowland swept in on Leeson, Overden scoring from Beaudoin and Cupolo, the period ended with one goal each. The score was a true indication of the play in this period.

The people's choice, Hughie Barlow parked the disc behind Bishop at the halfway mark in the middle stanza. Red Aitken drawing an assist on the play. Aitken, back in action after suffering an injury in the first game, appeared very steady, and bolstered the sagging defense considerably.

Crowland came back with the equalizer late in the period. Holmes scoring unassisted Hutchinson was awarded two minor penalties in this period. Macorvita and Cupolo also drawing minors.

From the opening minute of the third period, the Kings looked like a different team. Time after time, Bishop was sensational thwarting clever passing plays by the Kings. At the half way mark his luck ran out, as Glas pounced a long shot from the left side, Barlow assisting. Three minutes later, Reid and Clancy handed another goal to Glas from about the same position as his previous effort. The Kings skated Crowland to a standstill in this period, looking like a different team as compared to the earlier part of the game. Red Reid scored next from Hoyle, as Red made one of his old time dashes the entire length of the ice and beat Bishop on his own rebound. Soutar scored the sixth and final King tally, Hutchinson setting up the play.

The Bisons added their third goal in the final minute of play. Holowan scoring from Macorvita. Duffield and Beaudoin were charged with majors in the third period, in the only show of fight which was anticipated by local fans.

MASONS PLAY KINGS HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Currently sitting in second position in the Big 7, the St. Catharines Masons are due here tomorrow night to do battle with the Peach Kings. The Masons striving to overtake the league leading Brantford Nations, will be going all out, and have high hopes of reversing the decision over the Kings, who handed them a three to one reverse on their own ice some three or four weeks ago.

The Masons, a surprise starter in the league, have surprised the officials, and their current high rating is due only to one thing—a lot of fight and the occasional reminding of one Alme Clements. If you think this guy isn't hot, take a look at his record against Woodstock last week. The Woodstockers outshot the Masons 56 to 23, yet the Garden City crew came out of the western town with a five to three win.

The Masons have twice chopped the Falls-Welland Mango down to junior size, and the work of Eric Adamson and Bill Frick, two of their better forwards have made them a leading contender for league honours.

With the fans hereabouts a trifle hockey starved, due to a lengthy period of Peach King inactivity on home ice, the Livingston Avenue joint will be really jumping on Friday night, so better pick up your tickets early. Game time to the usual 8.30.

FOOT HYGIENE.....

(By Dr. D. V. Curvey, M.D., L.S.M.S. (Health Unit))

Last week we spoke about various foot troubles, so today we would like to tell you something about the prevention of these conditions. Probably no one ailment can cause so much discomfort, pain and misery as defects of the feet which are so common.

In a study among children in one city in North America it was found that 25% of the boys and 8% of the girls had what was classified as "bad feet." In another city in a similar study the proportions were even higher, as 14% of the boys and 14% of the girls had some defect of the feet. In one of our large Universities, a survey revealed that 9 out of every 10 students had what is known as "play feet," that is the feet turned too far outward.

Foot troubles may cause a serious economic loss as well as causing nervousness, fatigue and misery. Many of the backaches complained of, especially by women, are often due to some defect of the feet or some unnatural position.

Why do the feet, that are such finely co-ordinated human organs, sometimes fail in their job of carrying us through life as they should? Ill-fitting and too high or too low-heeled shoes or badly fitted stockings, poor posture, improper habits of walking and injuries of different kinds, cause a great deal of our foot trouble. Cement sidewalks, paved streets, and hardwood floors are largely responsible for the callouses, the corns, the collapsed arches, the ingrown toenails and the rigid toes that make miserable the lives of so many people. It has been said that if the ladies who walk many miles in the North woods day after day were to transfer their activities to our sidewalks, they would be incapacitated in a short while.

But since modern civilization requires that we wear shoes and since the sidewalks paved highways, and hardwood floors are with us to stay, let us turn our attention to the subject of foot hygiene and see what we can do to ward off the deformities, and other foot defects that are so largely preventable.

First of all we must consider the feet as organs of the human body, just as much as are the heart, the lungs or the stomach. The feet should be given routine definite care. Like all external parts of the body they should be washed once each day with water and a stimulating variety of soap. If the feet are tired and then, in addition, with a small quantity of borax and powder and massage them with cold cream, cocoa butter or some such ointment for a few minutes morning and evening.

Well-fitted stockings are very important. They should neither be too long nor too short for the feet. If they are too long, they wrinkle, cause undue pressure of various points, and give rise to irritating areas. If they are too short, they disturb the position of the toes and alter the shape of the foot. They should be washed each day.

Shoes should preferably be made of the softest material with a medium-width arch. Evidence seems to indicate that the highest shoes in preference to the low ones. The most rule of the shoe of the shoe should be fastened at a straight line and the heel should be neither too high nor too low. Further evidence of shoe fit for both the feet and spine. The shoe should have the right width, length and height. The shoe should have the right width, length and height. The shoe should have the right width, length and height.

If your feet are giving trouble, then change at once. Change your shoes once during the day and make an effort not to wear the same shoes for days in succession. Simple procedure seems a double purpose: it helps relieve the strain on the feet and it aids in retaining the shape of the shoe. The shoes are equipped with rubber heels. They maintain the shape of the feet, legs and spine. It is a drastic to resort to the use of metal arch supports only after consultation with your physician.

Frequently, patients recovering from an infectious disease walk about their rooms or the house in bedroom slippers. Such a practice is to be avoided. The supporting structure of the foot, as a result of the toxin or poison in the system of the convalescent are relaxed at this time particularly the tendons muscles and ligaments of the foot and because of this need the support of a shoe.

Much of the fatigue and nervousness that plague the human race are the result of poor foot hygiene. If, unfortunately, you should develop a defect of the foot, no matter how slight, go to your physician. Remember that excessive flat foot is often curable in its early stages especially if accompanied with pain. Like deep to mind that walk feet may be caused by some internal condition of another organ of your body but your physician is the one who can best determine the real cause.

The peach has no Christmas legend and its adoption as a symbol or decoration for Christmas is of recent origin. In Spain it is known as the for do noche-buena, and is connected with the sentiment of Christmas.

Its beautiful flaming star is one of the favorite flowers of the Christmas season, and its use as an indoor decoration is universal.

APRICOTS — A RICH SOURCE VITAMIN A

Vitamin A is found in apricots at the Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, B.C., says A. W. Mayhew. Apricots are to be an exceptionally good source of Vitamin A. Vitamin A in apricots like other fruits and vegetables is present in a form that is not readily absorbed by the body and is called provitamin A or carotene. The yellow plant substance is converted in the human or animal body into vitamin A that is nutritionally active.

In everyday human nutrition provitamin A or carotene is the chief source of dietary vitamin A either directly in the form of fruit or as a green leafy vegetable, or indirectly through dairy products and eggs from the feed eaten by the cows and hens. Even the high vitamin A content of fish liver oils comes originally from the carotene present in the marine plant life.

The vitamin A content of apricots was found to range from 1,100 to 1,600 International Units per 100 grams of fruit which makes apricots equal to egg yolk the best summer source of vitamin A. Leaf lettuce, young carrots and spinach are good vegetable sources. The green leafy ones with an orange-red hue and mustard greens. Apricots are about twice as rich in vitamin A as either peaches or Italian plums, both of which are considered good sources of this vitamin. While the carotene content of apricots varies considerably with variety all varieties are a good source. On the basis of accepted nutritional standards, apricots are a source of fresh apricot will contain the average adult's requirements for one day.

Vitamin A is well retained in canned apricots. Some loss occurs, however, in preparing apricots pure, this being partially due to the removal of the skin which is very rich in this vitamin.

CHIEF OF POLICE APPROVES PARKING METERS IN TOWN

Council Ask Company To Survey Traffic Conditions And Submit Report — Precautionary Signs To Motorists To Be Placed Adjacent To Schools—Parking On Only One Side Of Elizabeth St. From Now On.

Regular meeting of Town Council on Friday night last was a very amiable one. Outside of the reasoning that Councillor Bonham gave The Independent for "incorrect reports of council proceedings, particularly as regards the new fire truck," everything was very tranquil and a lot of year and business was cleaned up.

Councillor Constable brought the question of parking meters for Grimsby to the fore, when he produced a letter from the E. T. Norton Co., of Brantford, outlining a proposal for their installation. The company would enter into either a six months or 12 months agreement with the town for the installation of the meters. If the agreement was for 12 months the company would receive 50 per cent of the take and the town 50 per cent. If for six months the company would get 75 per cent of the proceeds and the town 25 per cent. In either case if the meters did not prove satisfactory the company would remove them, repair sidewalks, etc., at no cost to the town.

Chief of Police Wm. James highly recommended the parking meter system, particularly for Main street. He outlined several towns of similar size to Grimsby where they have worked out very satisfactorily from a traffic standpoint of motorists who wished to park for a brief time and then be on their way. In fact the meter eliminated the mass who wanted to park all day, or in other words he found a parking space off the main travelled thoroughfare. A motion was passed requesting the Norton Co. to make a survey of Grimsby traffic conditions and submit their recommendations to council.

Mayor Bull and council expressed regret of the illness of King George, and also expressed sympathy to Councillor Scott upon the recent bereavement of his mother. Frank Anderson of the Lions Club appeared before council with a request that warning signs be placed at the east and west ends of the town. He stated that tourists, in particular, not knowing a town was ahead, travelled at the rate of 50 and 60 miles an hour. Council on motion decided to erect these warning signs, although Councillor Bonham stated that there were already three signs in front of his house. Precautionary signs will also be erected adjacent to the schools.

Upon motion of council Mayor Bull was given authority to proclaim Monday, December 27th Boxing Day, a public holiday. An amendment was made to the traffic bylaw whereby all parking of vehicles on Elizabeth street between Main and Adelaide be prohibited. With care and trucks parked on both sides of this street it has been impossible for a car to wiggle through between them. This street is a connecting link between No. 8 and the Queen Elizabeth. Councillor Bonham reported that two street lights were badly needed on Kingsway Boulevard and Melrose avenue. They will be erected.

A. P. Henley was granted a building permit for 25 Elizabeth street and C. P. O'Neill for 74 Livingston avenue.

Councillor Bonham again brought up the question of school children and the hazards of them running across the streets on Livingston and Main.

Chief James stated that a campaign was already under way to educate the children and eliminate the present dangerous situation. Chief James also requested that all bicycles in Grimsby be registered in order to help the police in tracing lost and stolen bikes. He also requested that very badly needed repairs to the police cells be made.

Councillor Reid will take up the matter of arranging proper working shifts for the three men on the police force.

Relief accounts for November totalled $42.

General voucher accounts for $2417 were ordered paid.

Joint Fire Committee accounts for $64 were ordered paid.

GROWERS PROTESTING DELAY AT FACTORIES

Ask That Two Hour Time Limit Be Enacted—Some Claimed To Have Been Held Up 40 Hours.

Protest: "That a delivery time limit of two hours from the time scheduled for delivery of tomatoes be set on the arrival at the unloading point and that truck and labour costs over this given period be paid for by the company."

This was the outcome last Thursday of a charge by growers represented at the 8th annual convention of the Ontario Vegetable Growers and Marketing Board that many of them had been kept waiting as long as 30 and 40 hours outside canneries during the busy season.

Arthur Fulton, secretary of the board, said that during these waiting periods, the growers had had to pay labour and trucking costs.

DEATH CALLS OLD SOLDIER

Owen Teeter, Grimsby Born Man, A Casualty Of World War One Had Been Confined To Military Hospitals Since 1918—Enlisted From West-ern Canada — "Lost" By Family For Many Years.

In Canadian military hospitals ever since coming back to Canada as a casualty of World War I, in 1918, Owen Teeter died at Westminster Hospital, London, on Friday, December 10, 1944.

He had been a patient at Westminster for over 26 years, and prior to that had been at Christie Street Hospital, Toronto.

In his 85th year, he was born at Grimsby on April 4, 1859, a son of the late Nelson and Mary Teeter. As a young man he went to western Canada where he enlisted after the outbreak of war, going overseas with a western regiment of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

His sole survivor is a sister, Mrs. Edward Athin of North Tonawanda, N.Y.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. George McLean and the Canadian Legion at the Stonehouse Funeral Home Monday afternoon. Interment was made in the Plot of Remembrance, Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

(Reprinted from The Independent of February 26th, 1936)

About 51 years ago there was born in Grimsby, a son, the second one, to the late Mr. and Mrs. Nelson J. Teeter, who resided on the east side of Main street west, opposite the present United Church (then W. John's Presbyterian). This son was named Owen and he grew up to be quite a chunk of a lad. One of those devil-may-care laughing youngsters, who could sing a little, dance a little, whistle a little and talk incessantly, hence the sobriquet of "Gabbie", which early attached itself to him.

When only 16 years old "Gabbie" decided that the office coat was too crowded for his style and he tied himself away to the "Last Great West" to build railroads and grow up with the country. He was gone for five years and seldom wrote a letter home, but one cold day in November he turned up at home.

He stayed home for a few months and then got strictly fed again and away he went. This was in 1905 and he was only heard from occasionally until 1913 when all communications ceased.

In the spring of 1918—seven long years had flown—Mrs. Edwin Adkins, a sister, received a letter from a nurse in the soldiers' hospital at New Westminster, B.C., asking if she had a brother by the name of Teeter, as a man of that name was under her care, that he sent no letters and received none and was very vague as to whom his relatives were or where he came from.

Mrs. Adkins immediately answered this letter, but strange to relate, never received a reply or heard anything more from the nurse or from any other source. Mrs. Adkins was greatly worried as was the father who then was closely crowding the four score year mark.

As to answer came to their letters, Mr. Teeter appeared to The Independent, to help track down the mystery, and so if the Teeter referred to by the nurse was his long lost son.

Leut. J. A. M. Edgington, then Business Manager of this paper and a war veteran himself, took the case up and after many months of correspondence and delving into militia records, the militia department finally agreed to have the man removed from the hospital at Desjardins, B.C., to Westminster.

POLITICAL POT IS SIMMERING IN THE TOWN AND TOWNSHIP

Councillor Lewis A Candidate For Mayor—Reeve Nelson In Retiring In Township—Barlett May Also Retire—Hewitt Not Likely In Field.

The municipal political pot has begun to simmer slightly but it is a long ways from a boil at the present time. Who will be in the hole for the various municipal offices in both town and township is still a big question. It might even happen that in the town a second nomination might have to be held to fill the council seats, a situation which has cropped up each year for the past three years.

To date Mayor Bull has made no public announcement as to whether he would seek a fifth term as Chief Magistrate or retire from public life. On the other hand persistent rumors are to the effect that Councillor Clarence W. Lewis will be a mayoralty candidate, but he is saying nothing.

As Reeve Hewitt has purchased a business in Hamilton, it is hardly likely that he will again offer himself for office, although he is still residing in Grimsby.

If Reeve Hewitt steps down it is quite possible that Deputy Reeve Price will step up to the Reevership.

As far as is known at the present time the intentions of Councillors Bonham, Brant, Scott, Latham and Constable are an unknown quantity.

Out in the township, Reeve MacNiven has definitely announced that he is retiring. Such being the case Deputy Reeve John Athens will no doubt make a bid for the Reevership, in all probability getting it by acclamation. At the present moment it is the intention of Councillor Ham Barlett to retire, although he may change his mind between now and nomination day and go for the Deputy Reevership.

Councillors McNiven and MacNiven have made no statement as to what their intentions were, although it is likely that they will both be in the field again, with Councillor McNiven making a bid for the seat of Deputy Reeve.

Nomination day in both municipalities is on Monday, December 27th, with election day on Monday, January 3rd. Even if there are no contests in the town for the various offices, still an election will be held in order to vote on the by-law that would, if carried, reduce the size of Grimsby Council from nine men to seven. If the by-law carries it would not take effect until January 1st, 1949.

Only 10 Per Cent. Of Sweet Cherries, It Was Discovered And 50 Per Cent. Of The Peaches Were Sold As A Unit In The Standard Six Quart Basket—Bring Higher Prices.

Good things in small packages have been demonstrated as the decided preference of city dwellers in fruit purchasing, according to the report of the research and marketing committee presented at the annual meeting of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association, held in the auditorium of the new Jordan School. The interesting report was presented by Dr. W. H. Uphall, of the Horticultural Experimental Station staff, Vineland, who enlisted the co-operation of members of the Ontario Fruit Branch, Toronto, in experimental work in packaging carried out in Toronto.

Only 10 per cent. of sweet cherries, it was discovered and 50 per cent. of the peaches, were sold as a unit in the standard six-quart basket. Cherries were preferred by customers in one-pound transparent bags, and peaches sold most readily by the piece of five or more. A decided preference was shown by the buyers to peaches displayed on large piles like oranges, although considerable taken out of the cartons and bruising developed from the handling received from the customers.

High-quality peaches purchased by the grocer in the new tray packs were retailed in this manner at five for 25 cents, realizing approximately $1.60 per package, the return to the grower being $1. About the same amount could be realized, it was stated, for high-quality fruit in the attractive eight pound tray pack as for the heaped six-quart basket of 10 or 11 pounds.

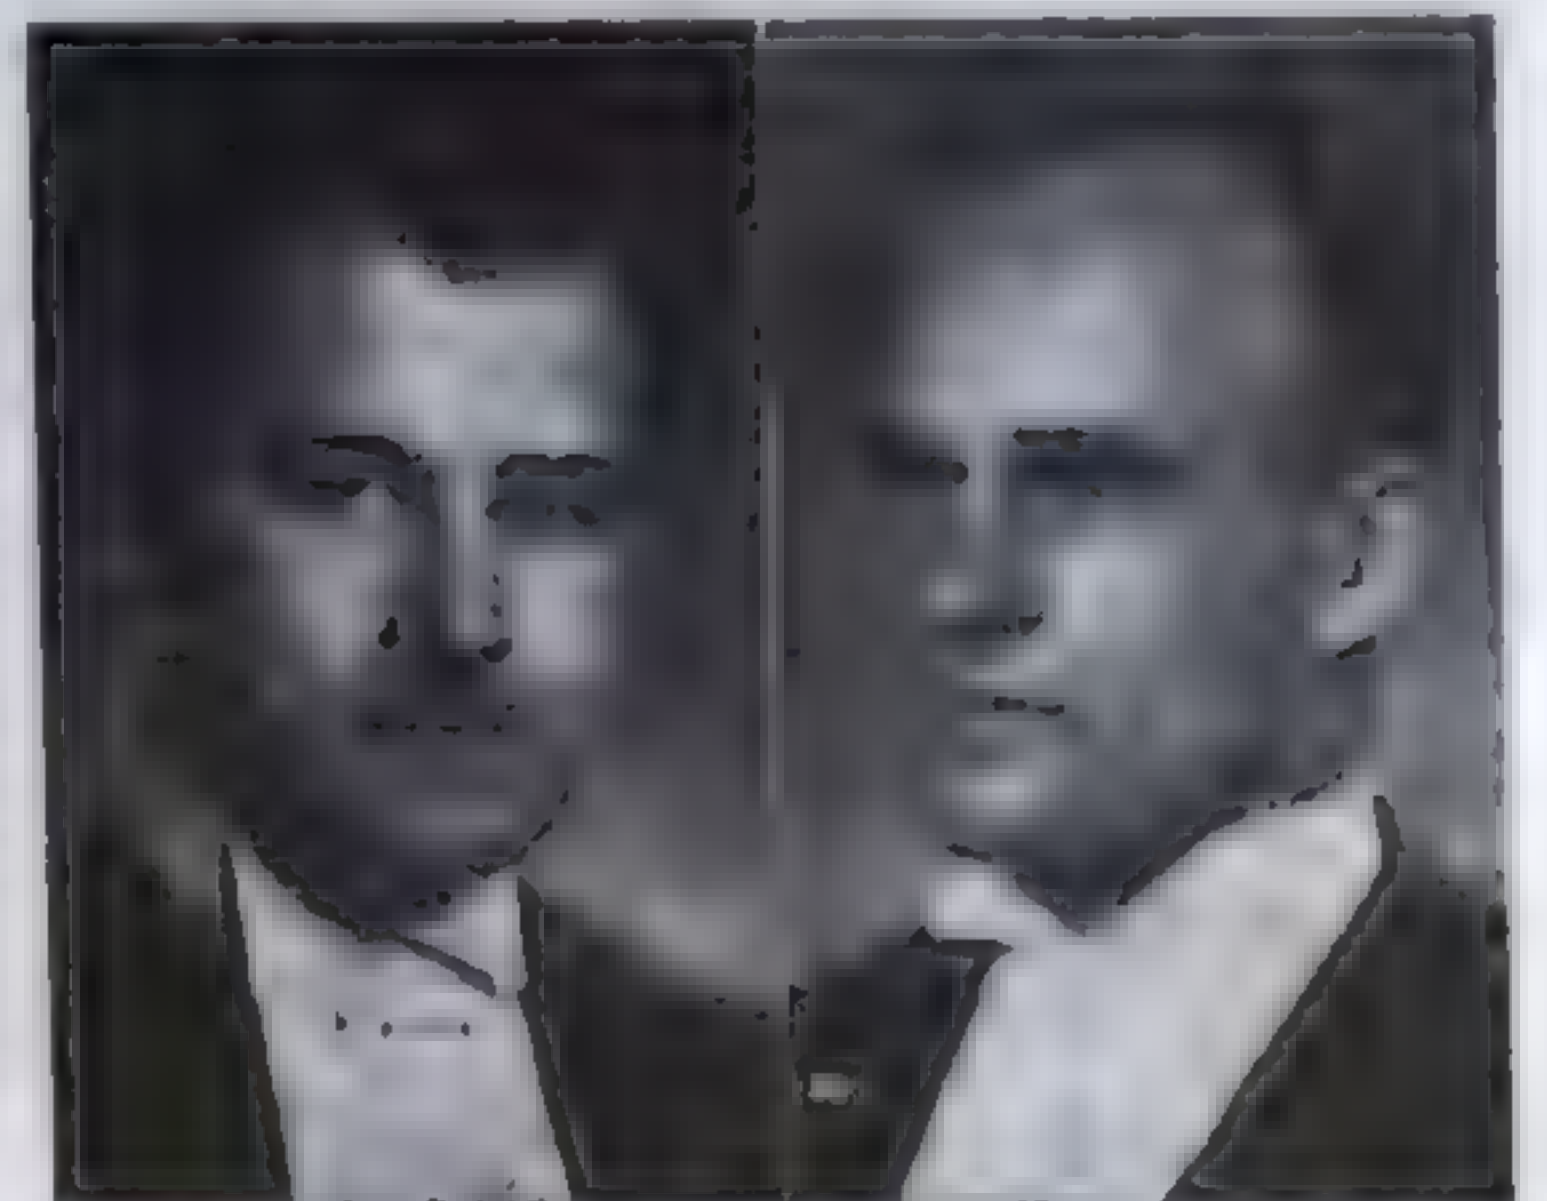

Select sweet cherries put in transparent-covered trays holding one pound, and readily at 30 cents, when the general run of number ones sold at 25 cents, and $2.50 in six-quart baskets.

Dr. Uphall also reported results from a survey of growers' packs made from samples taken from packing houses and shipping platforms previous to inspection. Sweet and sour cherries, peaches and plums were used in the experiment revealing a need for greater care in sorting the fruit and closer packing house inspection.

Most common defect found in the sweet cherry packs was stem breakage. Others were deformities, immaturity, rot and bird pecks. Rot rated highest in the sour cherries, followed by immaturity, stem breakage and deformity. Immaturity was also a factor in the peaches.

NEW LEGAL FIRM IN NEW OFFICES

From little acorns mighty oak trees grow. This old passage can well be adapted to the growth of a settlement, eventually to become a village, a town, and perhaps in the future a city. The growth of the Town of Grimsby is noted as years go by, new manufacturing sites, a better public utility commission and a hundred and one other such details that go into the making of a thriving metropolis.

Along with other strides toward a bigger and better Grimsby, the now fading year of 1948 has seen the arrival of a new law firm, just as important as the election of a new mayor, or the opening of a new housing survey, a law office holds an important role in a municipality where the problems of its people may be worked out by men whose training qualifies them to help share the burdens of seemingly unmanageable burdens.

With the opening of the new law firm of Long and King, not only does this Town and surrounding areas now (Continued on Page 22)

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

HIGHLY INFLAMMABLE

If every householder had the experience of seeing dry evergreens burning, there would be fewer tragedies from Christmas tree fires.

Ablaze, they resemble flaming celluloid, or some other tinder-dry and highly combustible substance.

This quality of the Christmas tree makes it a potentially dangerous addition to the household. Though it may be green at the start, the warmth and dryness of the air soon remove its natural defence against a flash fire. A touch of flame, even a spark, can be enough to ignite its needles.

The Christmas tree can be made safe only by taking no chances with it. Keep its base in water. Keep it away from open flames. Guard against faulty electrical wiring. And dispose of it quickly when its purpose has been served.

FOR A HAPPY HOLIDAY

Some people will be happier this Christmas for things not bought—gauses, splints, adhesives, anaesthetics—says the Industrial Accident Prevention Association.

Need for these things can come in so many ways that it's hard to make sure they really are checked off your "Christmas list."

"Keep Christmas Happy" is a slogan suggested by the organization in a special appeal to prevent accidents at Christmas time.

From candles on Christmas trees to lack of enough care in driving or walking accidents this Christmas may spoil the holiday season for families of the injured.

Bad weather, more hours of darkness, and the Christmas rush all make for dangerous traffic. To thwart these the I.A.P.A. suggests:

1. Don't drive if you drink.
2. Balance bad weather and darkness with less speed and more care. Start earlier and go more slowly.
3. Don't let the hustle and bustle make you impatient if you get caught in a jam. Don't try to make up the few minutes you lost. Take it easy.

CHRISTMAS

Will you observe Christmas Day or will you keep it? Are you willing to forget what you have done for others and remember what others have done for you? To ignore what the world owes you and to think what you owe the world? To see that your fellowmen are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy? To close your book of complaints against the management of the Universe, and to look around for a place where you can sow a few seeds of kindness and happiness? Are you willing to do these things? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to stoop down and to consider the needs and desires of little children? To remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old? To stop asking how much your friends love you but rather if you love them enough? To bear in mind the things which other people bear in their hearts? To try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want without waiting for them to tell you? To trim your lamp so that it will give you a more light and less smoke, and to make a grave for your ugly thoughts, and a garden for your kindly feelings with the rate wide open—will you, then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world? That the blessed life which began in Bethlehem so long ago is the image and brightness of the eternal love of God—then you can keep Christmas. But you cannot keep it alone. That is the real question which faces us on Thursday—that is the final test we must apply to our lives.

Peace on earth, good will to men. Peace we have, of a sort, but how much good will? That is the lesson of Christmas. If we are to keep this peace so costly won, we must learn to create the spirit of true goodwill between ourselves and others in our daily lives. We must stop observing Christmas, and learn to keep it in our own lives every day. Tiny Tins of this Christmas, with the storm just passed, spinning atoms of the atomic age—God bless us everyone.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE

If you have your dearest Yuletide wish, what would it be?

You'd wish that somewhere in the troubled places of our sorry world there might be raised a wondrous Christmas tree, so tall the silver star of Bethlehem upon its top would touch the sky, that all might see. Its great, green boughs would bend beneath the tokens of good will, and round its base would gather a vast choir of all races who would carol songs of peace.

Fanciful, isn't it? Well, there's little harm in wishing. Perhaps if we wish hard enough, our vision may come true. Tom Keene, editor of the Elkhart (Indiana) Daily Truth, has sent out a letter of good cheer and a prose-poem which he composed about a Christmas tree. Here is part of what he wrote about the tree:

I am your Christmas tree.

I have come far—from silent slopes where rabbits run.

Furry wayfarers of the night cuddled contentedly at my earth-bound feet, and winter's snows draped with gay festoons my bending boughs.

From out of the colorful pageantry of the changing seasons I have come to grace the Yuletide home with my green symmetry.

Silvery tinsel now drapes the boughs that once so proudly wore the sheathed whiteness, and the head that once was adorned by the mellow tracery of a bright moon's gleam now rests beneath the crown of a shimmering star.

Though I wear a robe of bangles and glittering things, I bring to you the refreshment of the great outdoors, and I bid you pause to ponder on Him who is the Creator of us all.

For beneath my tinkling coat there feebly beats a friendly heart, drained of its strength by the woodman's wound.

And, though I be dying, I am content, for I have brought you beauty.

It is Christmas time, and I have been given a place of honor in your family circle of happy hearts.

Who among you shall say that I am unworthy?

I am your Christmas tree.

MAY YOU ENJOY GIVING YOUR GOOD WILL

There was no international peace when Christ was born. His people were in bondage and the massacre of the first born was akin to the political mass murders of to-day. There has been no secure external peace in the centuries since. He came to bring peace to men of good will; but men of good will everywhere have found their own peace in His life and teachings. He saw that world peace would come only when men in all the earth were at peace within themselves.

The richest Christmas gift that men can give is their twice blest good will; it can and some day will bring peace to all mankind. Our best Christmas wish for our readers and for ourselves is that all of us should enjoy giving abundantly the tokens of peace and good will.

MAKE IT SAFE

Make your Christmas safe from the fire hazard. And make it safe, too, from the traffic hazard. But fire has proved a demon in the Yuletides of the past.

The National Fire Protective Association warns that, from a few days before Christmas to a few weeks after New Year's, a plague of fires rages up and down the country. Many of these fires are the result of hazards which exist only during the holiday season.

In a little country school house in Babbs, Oklahoma, where 150 people were crowded for a Christmas party, candles ignited the Christmas tree. There was only one exit. Windows were heavily barred. Thirty-six celebrators were killed in the panic or left behind to burn to death when the crowd stampeded.

In a fashionable Selma, Alabama, country club six women were burned to death and several others injured when someone struck a match in their midst and ignited their cotton-trimmed Christmas costumes.

Four people were killed in a Jersey City, N.J., hotel when a Christmas tree in the lobby was ignited by a toy electric train.

The NFPA offers this five-point plan for Christmas fire safety! Wire your tree so it won't fall over, and place it away from fire places and other sources of heat. Bring your tree in as short a time before Christmas as possible and remove it as soon afterwards as you can. Don't use open flame lighting; electric lighting is just as attractive and much safer. Use only incombustible of flame-proof decorations. Have plenty of ash-trays and do not allow smoking near the tree.

A CHRISTMAS TOAST TO FARM FOLK

Let the wealthy and great Roll in splendour and state,
I envy them not, I declare it.
I eat my own lamb,
My own chickens and ham;
I shear my own fleece and I wear it.
I have lawns, I have bowers,
I have fruits, I have flowers,
The lark is my morning alarm.
So jolly boys now,
Here's God speed the plough,
Long life and success to the Farmer.
—Author Unknown.

CHRISTMAS MEMORY

She loved the Christmas season so!
The holy and the marvellous:
The children's laughter, and the ring
Of drollish and the caroling;
The Christ Child in the stable bare;
The Star of Bethlehem shining there;
The gold and frankincense and myrror
Which presents of the Wise Men were;
The stockings at the chimney hung
And all the gifts for old and young.

She loved the joys of Christmas Eve!
The faith of children who believe
In Santa Claus and go to bed
With dreams of wonder overhead,
And dolls and sleds and horns and drums
They've wanted "Until Christmas comes!"
She loved the cards which friendship sends,
The love which Christmas-time attends,
And oft she said, "If I'm away
Let nothing spoil their Christmas Day."

"Be sure these things you do for me:
Get ornaments to trim the tree;
With wreath and ribbon deck each wall,
Hang mistletoe inside the hall.
Remember, pile the sideboard high
With figs and raisins, cake and pie.
Sing all the carols as of old.
Tell all the Christmas tales I've told
And don't, because I've gone away, Let sadness spoil the Christmas Day."
—Edgar Guest.

THE OLD CHRISTMAS CRISIS

The Christmas season gives us scope
For giving presents small or ample.
It's disconcerting, goodness knows,
That each good friend may get his sample
Of this or that, or these or those There's one last rush with which to cope.

We rack our brains to try and think
What size in white the Uncle Peter,
Is Nellie's favorite color pink,
Or would that blue be sweeter?
We find how fast the minutes fly
While fussing round to choose a tie.

Has Aunt Mabel read this book
We light upon and think would suit her?
We wonder how these beads would look
On cousin Mae. Would pearls be better?
We walk along and think for books
What else some nephew takes in socks.

But there's another point it seems.
That Christmas fussing ought to show us.
Our smiles should all have brighter beams
At such a time that those who know us
Will find our very nature blent
With gifts surpassing all the rest.

No room exists for tempers short
Or snoring words or harsh complaining
Let ships of Jry sail into port
In every heart till each is gaining Renewal of those childhood thrills,
Forget discomfort, ruck and bills!

The Fisher family have occupied the farm for 64 years and are peach growing experts. Walt's father, C. Howard Fisher, developed the famous Fisher peach, an early yellow variety in 1934.

Born at Queenston, Walter Fisher was educated there and at Niagara Falls Collegiate Institute, graduating from Ontario Agricultural College in 1926. He is married and has three children.

NEW LEGAL FIRM

have a law legal firm, but also two citizens who have chosen this district because to them it exemplifies the motto of future planning.

Boydland dreams came true for two brothers, John and Michael King, when they opened their office here a short time ago. Followed shortly after by the opening of an office in St. Catharines. Their plans to become lawyers and work together as a team were fulfilled when they both realized a common interest in law, and so it was decided that this was to be their goal.

John, the older, graduated from Osgoode Hall Law School in 1944, and when Michael was called to the Bar this year their plans were well on the way. On graduation, John became associated with a leading law insurance company, and gained experience in various planning, repeating administrative study in the fields of insurance, duties and taxation. However, when the time came for his brother to graduate, John resigned his position and prepared to resume private practice of law. Their selection of Grimsby as a suitable place to "hang out the shingle" came as a result of visiting the Niagara Peninsula in past years, and in those visits their town struck them as being their future aim. Here they would open their cherished partnership, the Law Firm of John and Michael King.

Their experience before arriving here has hinged on many phases of law procedure. John, as a student, studied with the well-known Toronto criminal lawyer, Arthur Martin, and had the opportunity of assisting in a number of Mr. Martin's murder trials. Michael studied under C. L. Deha, who has acted in a number of labor disputes the most recent being the McKinnon Industries strike in St. Catharines.

The experience in the various stages of law practice will of course never go amiss as they now open their doors to the public here. Rather than specialize in any particular field of law it is their purpose to establish an active general practice, which with its day to day variation is possibly the most interesting.

The Independent is happy indeed to welcome these two brothers to Grimsby, and wish for them a complete realization of their hopes in the noble profession they have chosen.

November's "traffic total" pushed the toll for the year higher than for the first 11 months of 1947, though until last month this year had been lower. The 1946 total to the end of November reached 672 fatalities, five more than in the same period last year.

Last month 31 of the 60 victims were pedestrians, and of these 15 were over 65 years of age. Only six of the victims were children, two less than the same month a year ago.

Records showed that at the outbreak of war in 1914 he enlisted and went overseas, serving three years in the trenches and then several months in hospital in England. On being returned to Canada he was natural that he be sent to hospital in British Columbia, as that is where he enlisted from. Had it not been for the nurse visiting that chance letter Owen Taylor's whereabouts would probably still be unknown.

TRINITY SERVICE CLUB

The Service Club held a business session prior to the Sacred Christmas concert held in Trinity United Church on Thursday evening. The nominating committee chosen to draw up the 1944 slate of officers will consist of Mrs. Geo. Mitchell, Mrs. Victor Cullen, Mrs. Edwin Phelps, Mrs. Arthur Clarke and Mrs. Russell Terry (all past presidents).

Mrs. Geo. Mitchell gave the report of the Welfare Committee, stating that donations had been forwarded to a family in straitened circumstances and the Committee are planning to distribute baskets of Christmas cheer to worthy cases.

It was the unanimous decision of all present to affiliate with the Women's Association of our church in joining the Dominion Women's Association.

Mrs. Victor Cullen, convener of the Memorial Window Committee, was authorized to communicate with a Toronto firm regarding the installation of the Memorial Window in the church at an early date.

The report of the Treasurer and the Ways and Means Convener showed the Club to be in better financial status than ever before.

The Church was decorated to follow out the Christmas theme and the soft candlelight provided a perfect setting for the concert. Mr. Donald Kennedy played an organ prelude consisting of the selections "In Dulce Jubilo" and "Noel", followed by the welcome address delivered by the Rev. A. L. Giff.

The Trinity Trouble Choir was composed of forty boys and girls, all in white and their rendition of "Yuletide French and English Carols" was excellent.

Miss Audrey Hill, guest soloist from Hamilton, showed unusual talent when she sang very beautifully "Come Unto Him" "O Holy Night" and "Alleluia".

With Mr. Ken Hunter at the piano and Mr. Donald Kennedy at the organ the numbers entitled "The Heavens are Telling" and "The shepherds and the Angels" were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

After the singing of the National Anthem, Mr. Donald Kennedy played an Organ Postlude.

RECTOR INDUCTED AT ST. JOHN'S, WINONA

The Service of Institution and Induction was the impressive setting for the official commencement of the ministry of the Rev. Albert E. A. Ongley in the parish of St. John's Church, Winona, and the Church of the Good Shepherd, Barton Road. This ancient service was conducted last Friday evening, December 10th, in St. John's Church, Winona, by the Right Reverend L. W. Broughall, Lord Bishop of Niagara, assisted by the Ven. A. C. Mackintosh, Archdeacon of Westworth and Hamilton, and by Rural Dean the Reverend Wm. Brown. The beautiful church, newly renovated and redecorated, was filled with clergy from the Diocese, with members of both congregations and with friends of the new Rector.

The Very Reverend W. E. Barnhill, Dean of Niagara and Rector of Christ's Church Cathedral, with whom the newly inducted Rector had been associated as curate for almost four years when Rector of St. George's Church, St. Catharines, was the special preacher. Using as his Biblical illustration, the story of the calling of the child Samuel, the Dean pointed out that people dedicated to higher things are able to hear and see things which other people dedicated to lower things cannot hear or see. "There is no neutrality; if we are not dedicated to higher things, we shall hear and see lower things," continued the Dean. "It is not people of wealth and power who have the answer to the world's need, but those who are dedicated to God."

Bishop Broughall dedicated a memorial window and other gifts immediately preceding the singing of the last verse of the prelude. The memorial window, given by Mrs. R. Bailey in memory of her husband is inscribed "To the Glory of God and in loving memory of Leonard R. A. Bailey who gave his life at Dieppe August 19, 1942, for King Country and Home. Born August 4, 1900. Died August 19, 1942." Another window was given by the late William Kinsler; the pulpit light was given by Mrs. G. D. Connell and the kneeler at the Communion Rail was given by Mrs. R. P. McFarlane. The consecration and dedication of the interior of the Church was also dedicated.

At the Winona Community Hall after the Service, the receiving line consisted of the Ven. A. C. Mackintosh, former Rector of the parish, the Rev. Albert Ongley, the new Rector, Mrs. A. E. Ongley, Bishop Broughall, Mr. J. A. Biggar, People's Warden of St. John's Church, Winona, and Mr. J. H. Stewart, People's Warden of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Barton Road. The ladies of St. John's and the Good Shepherd provided a delicious lunch for all present.

A NEW ORGANIST AT OLD ST. ANDREW'S

The appointment has been announced of Mr. Walter Booth of Hamilton to the post of Organist and Choirmaster of St. Andrew's Church. Mr. Booth has been formerly organist at St. James Church, Dundas and St. George's Church, Hamilton. A member of the Canadian College of Organists, he has studied with Mr. E. G. Fildes and Mr. Eric Hollings, formerly of Hamilton now of Stratford and Toronto respectively. With a high degree of efficiency as both organist and choirmaster, he is eminently fitted for the duties of his post, and should bring the music of the church to a high standard, both from the viewpoint of choice and performance.

Mr. Booth has already entered upon his new position at St. Andrew's.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

The Christmas Season with its lovely spirit of good will is in full swing at St. John's. Already the Ladies' Aid and The Beaver Club have held their Christmas Suppers, both of which were extremely successful.

This Friday evening, Dec. 17th, the scholars of the Sunday School will be served a dainty, delicious supper, beginning at six o'clock. Immediately following the supper of seven-thirty, a programme of carol singing, Christmas choruses, seasonal numbers and recitations will be given by the members of the school to which the public is invited. You will be surprised at the good concert our little school will put on. Come and encourage the children with your personal interest.

On Sunday morning there will be the regular service with Christmas hymns, an appropriate feast by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. McLeod, a story for the children and a Christmas meditation by The Minister. Special preparation has been made for the evening service. At seven o'clock, Mrs. D. McIntosh will give an Organ Recital of Christmas music. This will be followed by the singing of I. B. Wilson's Cantata, "The Birth of Christ." Elsewhere in this issue will be found a list of the choruses to be sung by the Choir with no assistance of outside musical talent. The church should be crowded to capacity for this service.

The congregation is planning further to observe the Christmas Season on Sunday, Dec. 20th. At the morning service, Rev. McLeod will have as his subject, "Opinions Concerning Christ." In the evening it is planned to have a candle-light Carol Service.

We extend to all our Sister Churches in Grimsby Greetings and Good Wishes for A MERRY CHRISTMAS and A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

FARM FORUM NEWS

Woolverton Road Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Etherington with 21 attending. The topic for discussion was "I Hear on the Radio." Secretaries for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Merritt and chairman were Messrs. Lewis Hawkey and Wm. Morison.

To the question "What types of radio program do you like best?"—our tastes showed much variety but all agreed that "Good Classical Music" should head the list. Good comedies, Farm Broadcasts, Market Reports and Weather and weekly serials were chosen by most members to be favorite programs.

We think most noisy live music should be eliminated and too much time is consumed in methods of advertising soaps, etc. Also cut out crude crime programs. Our local stations such as C.H.M.L. and C.K.O.C. are giving very interesting programs.

Lincoln county forums are to be heard at 9.30 on Tuesday evening, Dec. 16th, over C.H.M.L.

Last week Mr. Alvin Etherington attended the Executive Meeting of Lincoln County at Smithville. Plans are being laid to start a County Hospitalization plan.

Next week's meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George DeQuetteville. The topic will be "Let's Go to the Movies."

Woolverton Road Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. De Quetteville on Monday evening. The topic for discussion was "Let's Go To The Movies." All agreed that the pictures given by our local theatre were of a better type due to the fact that many western pictures had been eliminated. Secretaries for the evening were Lewis Hawkey and Geo. DeQuetteville.

Next meeting will be held at Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Walker's home. It is review night and our evening for entertainment.

Births

MAVES—On Tuesday, December 14th, 1948, at Mount Hamilton General Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Lionel James Hayes, Grimsby, a son (Gary James).

CLUB

The Beaver Club of St. John's Presbyterian Church held their annual Christmas Party on Monday evening in the church rooms. Members brought their husbands and friends and 75 people sat down to supper.

Mrs. Joe A. Livingston was asked to draw the winning ticket on the quilt, and Miss Orce Thomas, of Grimsby Beach, was found to be the lucky lady.

Rev. J. P. McLeod and Mr. D. C. Thomson distributed the gifts from under the beautifully decorated tree. These gifts proved very amusing, as most of the gentlemen received either plastic aprons, dainty handkerchiefs or knick-knacks.

Shuffleboard was played and Mr. Thomson led a sing-song. The happy occasion ended with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 10th, 1949.

I.O.D.E. BINGO WAS A BIG SUCCESS

The giant Christmas Bingo put on by Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E. in the High School Auditorium on Wednesday evening, Dec. 8th, for the purpose of raising funds toward equipping the Emergency Operating Room in the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital, proved to be successful beyond all expectations. The committee in charge, as well as the officers and members of the Chapter, would like to sincerely thank all those loaning tables and benches, the League for aprons, Mr. Lewis Jones for loaning Christmas trees, and the following men who so capably assisted our ladies:

Kenneth Baxter, Harold Matthei, Erwin Phelps, Fred Taylor, Ed Marlow, E. A. Buckenham, Dr. Copeland, Alex Gillespie, Clifford McCartney, Harold Steedman, Harry Morris, Fred Jewson, Roger Murphy, Pat Boehm, Wm. Lothian, Gerald Little, C. H. Walker, Cecil Govland, C. D. Millyard, Blake Marlow and Geo. Winkemeier.

An special thanks is extended to YOU, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, for your whole-hearted support of the undertaking, and the following is a statement of the financial results of the evening:

Expenses 247.65

Fifteen candidates were presented by the Rector for the Laying on of Hands. These new communicants will make their first Communion at the 8.30 a.m. service on Sunday, Dec. 19th, when it is expected that all those who have been confirmed during the past five years will be present.

Those who were confirmed are: Walter Ruskak, Bruce Howe, Arthur Henley, William Henley, William Nelson, Fred Nelson, Murray James, Murray Shaw, Helen Ruskak, Mary North, Isabel Harris, Marion Ruskak, Patricia Henley, Kathleen James, Barbara Shaw.

At the 4 p.m. service representatives of Men's Clubs from surrounding Anglican Churches were present to take part in the service at which the preacher was the Very Rev. Walter E. Baginall, D.D., Rector of Christ's Church Cathedral, Hamilton, and Dean of Niagara.

The men were guests of St. Andrew's Men's Service Club at tea and a Fireside Hour in the Parish Hall following the service. A motion picture on the needs of medical missions in China was shown through the kindness of Rev. Albert Gungley, Rector of Wilton, and Youth Chaplain of the Diocese.

Mrs. F. A. Wilson, wife of Judge Wilson of the Judicial district of Weyburn, Sask., called at the home of G. W. Crittenden on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Blackmore went to Kirkland Lake to attend the wedding of Saturday of their son, Dalton Blackmore, to Miss Frances Longmore.

GRIMSBY BEACH WOLF CUBS
Last Friday afternoon the Grimsby Beach Wolf Cubs met in the pack den at 8 o'clock, and began their activities with a mouse hunt, led by Leonard Kowalski. The presentation of the permit to the Brown Six by Akela was a highlight of the evening. Harry Dancer, leader of the Brown Six accepted with a grin that was matched by each one of the Browns. Akela then presided at the exciting business of the name draw for the exchange of Christmas gifts. Then out into the nippy afternoon the cubs trooped, and went through their carol practice, polishing up for the fast-coming, caroling evening. Only one more practice, cubs, so get those words down pat!

Presents will be exchanged on Friday, so come armed with parcels, "thank you's" and your best Cub grins!

Grimsby Park Parents' and Teachers' Association

A large number of ladies took advantage of the fine weather, and attended the meeting of the Grimsby Park School Parents' and Teachers' Association at the school last Friday afternoon. The President, Mrs. Mac Nelles took charge of the meeting. It was decided that the next meeting to be held on Jan. 21 would take the form a shower to be held at the home of Mrs. James Hogan, Main east. The shower gifts will be suitable for use at the card parties and in the kitchen. Arrangements were made for the next bridge and bridge party to be held at the school on Jan. 21st, with the proceeds being in aid of a new piano for the Junior room. Following the meeting a social half-hour was enjoyed by all, with lunch being served by Mrs. Mac Nelles, Mrs. J. Hogan, and Mrs. J. Molloy.

LEGION JOTTINGS

WEST LINCOLN BRANCH, No. 127

It was a most enjoyable evening at the Annual Dance in the Community Hall, Beamsville, last Friday. While the attendance was only a little over 250, they were a very happy crowd who enjoyed the rhythmic music of Egon Blot and his Orchestra and an excellent floor. Refreshments were provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Branch.

The Children's Party for the children of all ex-Service men and women next Monday promises to be a very exciting evening. Pictures, stunts, magic, presents and music. The fun starts at 7:00 and ends with a turkeyburger.

Unity is strength and it is only by the unity, unselfishness, and aid by the ex-Service men and women to the ex-Service men and women that our Legion activities are going to be successful. So much is taken for granted as to the Veterans' Grants and Allowances, Veterans' education and trade training, without considering that some organization must have presented the requirements of the returning soldier. This legislation was put through by the Legion.

After World War I no controlled grants, no arrangements for re-establishment of the soldier in any shape or form. There was no Legion, no G.W.V.A. (afterwards B.E.L.), in fact no organization working at home for the serving personnel at war.

How different this time, from early in the War, the Legion worked on the Government for some form of re-establishment. The result was the "Veterans' Charter," the act which governs the re-establishment and prolonged care of the ex-Service men and women.

Don't forget that the Legion was behind this, and is continuing to fight for further increases, therefore membership in the Legion is helping all ex-Service men and women. Remember it is not "what can I get?" but "how can I help?"

LEGION COMING EVENTS
Children's Christmas Party, Monday, December 20th, at 7 p.m. All "ex-Service" children.
Winona Branch Chicken Draw and Annual Games, Winona Legion Hall, Friday, December 17th.
Annual General Meeting, January 20th, 1949.

Mauri Parnell was invited and enrolled in the Tawny Six. Jack Lober and John Deam passed the physical training tests while Orl Begley and Don Wilson showed that they could tell time.

Service Stars were awarded to Richard Brown—one year; Jim Gregory—two years; Robert Johnson—three years.

Raksha gathered the Bones in place of Mowgli, who was absent. Kim started a new group in a study of our flag.
